transportation program for those over the age of 62.

What would Ms. Jacobs be expected to do? Mrs. Helm asks. Mr. McChesney says it is his understanding that she will be the building co-ordinator, and that each program will have its own co-ordinator. In addition, Mrs. Helm believes a professional, with background in some aspect of social service, should hold the job, and she regards it as full-time.

"The gym as a Senior Center is not as far along as we had hoped when we wrote the original contract," Mr. West acknowledges, pointing again to the way money evaporated. "We can all work together," Mrs. Helm believes. "A great many elderly people are not yet connected in — a huge number — and it's really important to expand services for the elderly."

meeting McCorristin on Monday. All three contests are at home.

The team's top scorer, Don Cogsville, led a comeback against Lawrence, which had made a first-period goal stand up until the final period. Cogsville netted a pair of shots 1:17 apart to seal the victory. Goaltender Mike Giulli recorded 12 saves.

Against Ewing, the Panthers used an aggressive defense and well-executed short passes to dominate the contest, winning 5-1. Sal Fier and Frank Little led the offense with a pair of goals apiece. Cogsville added one more. Giulli lost his bid for a shutout with just three minutes left in the game.

Princeton Heartlands Disappearing as Developers Rush to Purchase Large Estate Tracts for Housing

Choice Princeton acreage, in large parcels and at prices in six and seven figures, is being purchased for residential development, often by out-of-town developers.

Like dominoes, pushed by the twin forces of the Route One development and the promise of greater sewer capacity once the Princeton sewers are repaired and the moratorium on building is lifted, the heartlands of Princeton are falling in anticipation of the inevitable need for housing to accommodate those who work in the gleaming new offices. A housing boom seems to be in the making.

Neighbors in the Edgerstone area have been invited to hear a presentation on Friday evening by James B. Baker, president of Springlands Associates of New York City, of plans for the development of the Russell property. Under contract for a reported $2.2 million, the 82-acre site has three smaller parcels of around one acre each, and could provide ingress and egress to both Stockton Street and Rosedale Road.

The principal behind Springlands is J. Rich Steers, a member of the Class of 1948 at Princeton University, who owns a construction firm. The property includes a large stone Tudor mansion, which has not been inhabited for years and is badly in need of repair.

The mansion is surrounded by specimen trees and several other dwelling units currently being rented. There is also a swimming pool and tennis court and a large open area in the first stages of reforestation.

The property was considered by the Planning Board for the 1980 Master Plan as a possible site for conditional high density zoning. The Russell family was also reported to be considering clustered condominiums similar to Constitution Hill, which borders the land on the north. Subject to Planning Board approval, Springlands may be planning 55 single-family homes on the property, which is in a 1½-acre minimum lot zone.

Further along Route 206 toward Lawrenceville, the Cook property, another large Tudor house and 60 acres stretching to Mercer Road, is under contract to the Toll Brothers, builders, of Philadelphia. The firm is said to be one of the biggest in

PHS Choir, Orchestra Prepare for Vienna

The Princeton High School Orchestra and the Princeton High School Choir have been invited to take part in the 1984 International Youth and Music Festival in Vienna, Austria.

This is a prestigious international musical event for which only a select few schools are chosen, based on their "reputation for excellence." Some 40,000 students from 43 countries will gather in Vienna in mid-July to be judged by an international panel of top-flight music directors and to perform in concert halls, cathedrals and alpine villages.

What does it take to send 110 students and 70 musical instruments to Vienna for two weeks? Hard work, both in the preparation of a representative repertoire and in the raising of CAUSE UNKNOWN: Township police have yet to determine what caused this 1979 auto parts van, operated by 49-year-old Leon Hofing of Trenton, to leave the roadway early Monday morning and splinter a service pole on Route 206 near the intersection of Edgerstone Road. Mr. Hofing, incapacitated in the 5:47 a.m. accident, was taken to Princeton Medical Center and admitted to the hospital's intensive care unit for treatment of head and internal injuries and fractures. On Tuesday a hospital spokesman described his condition as fair. The van, owned by Leon's Auto Parts of Trenton, was demolished. Ptl. Anthony Gaylord is investigating the mishap and hopes to talk to the driver on Friday.

Campaign Begun to Gain Approval For $3.8 Million School Bond Issue

It will be a low-key campaign, but still a campaign, and the school board last week approved 13 names as the start of a Steering Committee to steer the bond referendum to a successful vote on December 6.

So far, it looks as though voters will be asked to pass on a $3.8 million bond issue; however, the final figures were not scheduled to be in until this Tuesday's school board finance committee meeting. In any case, the figure is slightly less than the original amount proposed because the board decided to go ahead with work it did not feel could be postponed.

Robert Powell, 92 Philip Drive, will head the Steering Committee. Mr. Powell, a former member of Borough Council, was a member of BRAC, the Bond Referendum Advisory Committee, that recommended the referendum.

Four other former BRAC members join Mr. Powell in the new group. They are Norman Winarsky, 221 Moore Street, who was head of BRAC's Energy Subcommittee; Joel Cooper, 474 Prospect, chairman of BRAC and a former school board member; Mimi Ballard, 28 Mason Drive, co-president of the Middle School PTO and Kate Litvack, 61 Laurel Road, head of the Joint Recreation Board.

Other citizen Steering Committee members are Troy Norris, 169 Snowden Lane, a senior at Princeton High School and student representative on the school board; Diana Radcliffe, 43 Moran, who was suggested by the Recreation Department.

Also Jon Varvel, 42 Sturges Way, active in the Friends of Princeton High Athletics and Mary Bliss, 202 Moore, vice-president of the Community Park PTO.

Staff representative on the committee will be Jean McDonough. School board president Ann McGoldrick, Superintendent Paul Houston and Business Administrator Board Secretary Judith Horner will also serve.

"These are people who have been active, and are willing to get out and work," Mrs. McGoldrick said, in comment on committee membership.

Many of the names are well known in Democratic political activities. Asked about this, Mrs. McGoldrick said the committee is definitely not a political group, adding that the school board voted to confirm the list of names with the understanding that more people would be appointed. She suggested also that Steering Committee members will probably ask for help in the campaign from other people they know in the community.

Bond Issue

The Steering Committee will meet Monday nights — although not every week — at 7:30 in the Davis conference lounge at Princeton High School.

Money for Maintenance. Money from the sale of bonds will go toward deferred maintenance for the schools: athletic fields, boilers, roofs and so on.

Mrs. McGoldrick said this week that over the summer, board members became increasingly uneasy about the state of the high school playing fields and finally decided it would be irresponsible to wait until passage of the bond issue to repair them.

"We felt we had to move ahead for safety reasons," she explained. "It's true that the athletic fields would have been a big selling point for us in the bond issue campaign, but we just didn't think we could wait. There were holes in the high school fields, dips and bumps — a very definite safety hazard."

The high school's fields have been undergoing renovation in the past few weeks at a cost of $149,500. The bond issue to be voted in December, will be reduced by that much. The school board took the money from its $800,000 capital budget.

A second project, the Community Park playground, has also been undertaken ahead of bond issue approval. At a cost of $83,800, the playground is being regraded and its drainage problems corrected. That money also was taken from the capital budget. New playground equipment will be installed by parents October 29.

The board is also contending with the problem of broken glass in the CP playground, Mrs. McGoldrick said. "We have been in touch with the Township police, and we hope they will patrol more often after dark. The playground is the property of the school board and we don't have to allow anyone there after dark."

Children have been injured by broken bottles on the playground, she said.

Council will vote on the curbs and sidewalks ordinance for Harrison Street; the removal of parking spaces on the east side of Witherspoon near the hospital and residency requirements for the fire department. Hearing on advancing the hours of the noise ordinance from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. Sundays, will be held October 27.

At this Thursday's work session, also at 8 in Borough Hall, Council will discuss sewer proposals by Robert McChesney, a note from the Planning Board regarding removal of parking spaces on Palmer Square East when Collins' hotel addition is built, and a training proposal by Corner House.

Council will also confirm at the work session the $30,500 study of sewer capacity to be undertaken by Betz, Converse, Murdoch, Inc., of Plymouth Meeting, Pennsylvania.

'DRUGS, ALCOHOL AND RELATED REVOLUTIONS': That's the subject of a talk to be given by Dr. Robert DuPont, president of the American Council on Drug Education, Wednesday, October 19 at 8 in McCarter Theatre. From left, seated: Loy Ann Carrington, Polly Miller and Marie Matthews; standing: Nancy Young and Gale Colby. Story on Page 4.

State DEP Official Says Deer, Dogs and Geese May Contribute to Pollution of Harry's Brook

Could it be deer, Canada geese, dogs that are contributing to high coliform bacteria counts in Harry's Brook?

But Mr. Hanson says not every sign location has been decided, and the Board of Health is the body to decide. It does not meet until October 25, but Mr. Hanson points out that he is the board's health officer. Presumably, therefore, on, and will be placed on each side of three Harry's Brook bridges: over Route 27, Random Road and Poe Road, with extra signs in reserve, in case.

Mr. Schiffman declines to take a position on a sewer ban: "It's a local issue," he said. But he added, "No sewer bans ever corrected the problem."

At the sewer meeting October 25, he will tell Princeton what he wrote to the Public Advocate in reply to a request for a ban on new sewer extensions to the Harry's Brook trunk.

"We never, never said the Brokaw would solve all problems," he emphasized, referring to current sewer repair following guidelines of a 1976 report by Arthur Brokaw.

Citing the consent agreement between Princeton and the state, Mr. Schiffman said Princeton "took the risk of giving up Federal aid in order to solve the problem quicker by itself, because there is no reimbursement, under Federal law. This was a major action for Princeton to take."

"You could argue priorities, maybe, but other areas in Princeton may be just as bad as Harry's Brook. People say the pace is not fast this week that coliform bacteria are 'only indications of contamination — like tracers.' Sophisticated tests, he would pick the locations. He says it will be three weeks before signs can be up.

Asked why the delay, Mr. Hanson said the board first mentioned signs in June, but wanted laboratory tests first. Princeton's health department ran these tests during the summer, the most recent one last week. There are, as yet, no results back from the state on last week's tests, he said. Mr. Schiffman also said he does not yet have results from September 16 tests run by the DEP.

Mr. Schiffman explained this week that coliform bacteria are "only indications of contamination — like tracers." Sophisticated tests,

DRIVER FAILS TO YIELD
Two cars collided on the Princeton-Kingston Road Sunday morning when a car emerging from a private drive at 1091 failed to yield to an oncoming car.

Kim M. Montano, 24, of Burlington, was charged with failing to yield to Ptl. Mark Emann. She suffered a fracture of the arm, a passenger, Roland Mackey, 17, of the 1091 address sustained lacerations of the face. Both were treated at Princeton Medical Center.

Eugenie L. Canning of 4 Carter Brook Lane, the other driver, who escaped injury, told the officer that Ms. Montano appeared to be looking both ways before she pulled in front of her. A witness told police that the Montano car had stopped partially in the lane of travel of the Canning car and that the driver appeared to be hesitant.

A motorcycle and a car were involved in a mishap last week at the intersection of Mercer and Alexander Streets.

Police said that a car operated by Catherine Turgan, 53, of Trenton, failed to stop, turned left onto Mercer and struck the motorcycle as it passed by. The impact pinned the right foot of the cyclist against his motorcycle but he was able to maintain control and the cycle did not overturn.

The cyclist, Paul A. Blyskal, 25, of Hillsboro, was taken to the Medical Center and treated for two broken bones in his foot. Mrs. Turgan was charged with a stop sign violation by Sgt. Thomas Proaccino.

DRUGS? PREVENT!
Dr. DuPont to Speak. The prevention of drug abuse — including alcohol abuse — by adolescents will be the theme of "Drug, Alcohol and Related 'Revolutions' of the 1980s," a talk by Dr. Robert L. DuPont, president of the American Council for Drug Education, on Wednesday, October 19 at 8 at McCarter Theatre. The public is invited, and the event is free.

Sponsors are members of the Fund for Drug and Alcohol Abuse, who also sponsored the David Toma appearance last year. The Fund plans a two-part program, beginning earlier in the day with a workshop for staff members of schools in the Princeton area, and representatives of parent organizations.

Dr. DuPont will be the principal speaker at this conference, whose purpose is to discuss ways parents and teachers can work together to create a drug-free environment for children.

Clinical professor of psychiatry at Georgetown University, Dr. DuPont is a practicing psychiatrist with a major interest in preventing the abuse of drugs. He directs the Center for Behavioral Medicine and is president of the National Phobia Society of America.

STORY HOURS, FILMS
For Children at Library. Fall programs for children begin in mid-October at the Princeton Public Library.

The first in a series of five story hours for children ages 3½ to 5 will take place on Tuesday, October 18, at 2. Each half hour session will include readings and a film strip. Parents may register their children at the Children's Desk.

Closed for Columbus Day

The Public Library will be closed Monday in recognition of Columbus Day. Books and other library materials may be returned through the book-drops by the Library's main entrance whenever the building is closed.

Regular Library hours are Monday through Wednesday 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Thursday through Saturday 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Films for pre-schoolers are on Thursdays at 3:30, beginning October 20. Tickets are not required. Details about pre-school workshops and a special holiday film are available in a Humpty Dumpty brochure at the Library.

On Wednesday evening, October 19, at 7:30, Princeton author Alvin Schwartz will present "An Evening of Scary Stories," suggested for children ages 7-12 and their parents. Free tickets are available at the Children's Desk.

Films for ages 6 and up are shown on Wednesday afternoons at 3:30, beginning October 26 when Halloween films will be featured. A brochure of programs for school age children is available at the Library.

BURGLAR IS CAUGHT
After Entering Hodge Road Home. An 18-year old New Brunswick resident was apprehended Monday morning after he entered an unoccupied home on Hodge Road and escaped with a silver tray and other silver pieces worth an estimated $1,800. Police report that a telephone call by an alert neighbor led to the arrest.

Charged with burglary and theft and with hindering a police investigation is Ray Abrams of Georges Road. He was later taken to the Mercer County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bail.

Police had received a call at 10:50 in the morning reporting a man walking in the rear yard of a neighbor's home. The caller gave police a description of the suspect and they conducted a search of the area. A short time later, Det. Randy Sutton observed the suspect at the Nassau and Witherspoon Street bus stop. He was carrying a cardboard box.

When police found silver articles inside the box, the suspect was arrested and taken to headquarters. Abrams later led police to the home on Hodge Road.

Police said that he entered the home by pulling up a ground-floor window that had been left slightly ajar. Once inside, he placed the silver items in the box, left the house and was headed for the bus stop when observed by the neighbor.

"Once again," commented Chief Michael Carnevale, "we want to applaud a resident of break-ins and thefts, all of the community who was not only observant but who was believed to be the work of one willing to call police and provide information about a suspicious person."

LENOR SET STOLEN
From Center Gift Shop. A Lenox teapot and pitcher set valued at $345 was shoplifted last week from Jordan's Gift shop shirts valued at $75 were taken. The shirts were taken from an unlocked storage shed adjacent to a Walnut Lane garage and took a collection of small garden tools valued at $30.

Moving north, the thief stole a 26-inch, boys 5-speed bicycle, valued at $180, from in front of a Juniper Row home. Police said its chain lock had been cut. A front wheel was stolen from a man's 26-inch Peugeot bicycle parked at a Mulberry Row home. It is valued at $40. All the incidents took place between 8:30 Friday night and Saturday morning.

Borough police report an attempted burglary between 12:30 and 1:25 Monday afternoon in a second-floor, Nassau Street apartment.

Chief Michael Carnevale said that someone forced a door, entered the apartment, ransacked it but did not take anything. Police, he said, have the description of two suspects and the investigation is being continued by detectives.

When a Lawrenceville resident returned Monday morning to his car parked in the Engineering Quadrangle lot, he discovered a person sitting in the car taking items

A 10 by 20-inch oil painting of an owl was reported missing last week from a home on Stockton Street. Police report it is valued at $300. There were no signs of forced entry.

FOUR THEFTS RELATED
Say Township Police. Four break-ins and thefts, all occurring on the same night, are believed to be the work of one person, according to Township police. "Somebody was up to no good," commented Capt. Jack Petrone.

An unlocked garage of a Ewing Street home was entered and a bicycle and a box containing 105 short-sleeve sport shirts valued at $75 were taken.

from the glove compartment. As he reached the car, the suspect was counting some money he had removed from the compartment.

According to Chief Carnevale, the suspect told the owner, "If you won't start any trouble, I won't," and with that he left the scene.

The suspect is described as a Hispanic male, about 30 years old, 5-6, slender, wearing a black leather jacket.

WINDOW SHATTERED

Rain Damages Speakers. The rear stereo speakers in a car of a Princeton resident were damaged last week when someone shattered the car's rear window, allowing rain to enter. Police said the car had been parked between 6:35 Thursday evening and the following morning.

In another act of vandalism, the housing mechanism of a parking meter on Prospect Avenue was damaged last week by a blunt instrument, probably, police say, a brick. The repair cost: $75.

EIGHT ARE FINED

In Township Court. Eight Princeton area residents were fined last week in Township criminal and traffic courts.

Christopher Marrow, 15 Lewisville Road, Lawrenceville, was sentenced to 90 days in the Mercer County Correctional Center for violation of parole and ordered to pay $25 to the Violent Crimes Compensation Board. He also must make restitution to the owner of a car which he spray painted.

William Stanton of Skillman was fined $100 for theft and ordered to pay restitution to Taylor Rental for a wheelbarrow and mortar board he allegedly stole. He was also placed on six months probation and told to pay $25 to the VCCB.

Gary Tower of Juniper Row was fined $25 and ordered to pay $25 to the VCCB—a total

Sumptuous Menu Planned for Buffet At Treaty of Paris Ball October 15

... and, in the spirit of the Treaty, French wines and domestic champagne (no, not the other way around) will be served throughout the evening.

We're talking about the menu for what the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce calls the "glittering" Treaty of Paris Ball, to be held Saturday, October 15 at the Hyatt Regency as the final skyrocket in the Treaty of Paris celebration that will begin the night before with a bonfire and fireworks (Friday, October 14, 7:30 p.m., Community Park).

The menu bows toward France, but includes also a nod to the Japanese, Greeks, Italians and 20th-century Americans. There is even a bow toward the vanquished enemy: the prime entree is the roast beef of Old England.

Saturday's festivities will begin at 7 with a Diplomatic Reception offering such tasties as medallions of boned duck breast roasted in a sauce Montmorency, vegetable tempura, in sweet-sour sauce, coconut fried fennel shrimp, cucumber rondelles with cream cheese and ginger, mushroom caps stuffed with spinach and feta cheese and triangles of smoked salmon with onions and capers.

Moving in to dinner, Treaty guests (but hardly "guests": tickets are $75 each) will find a buffet including a country pate en croute, a charcuterie of shaved cold meats, spinach-watercress salad with hot bacon and an antipasto, for starters.

Whole roast barons of beef will be carved right there. Next to the barons will be Smithfield hams en croute with port wine sauce, breast of chicken forestiere in white wine sauce, pommes chateau and vegetables.

Those who have room for dessert may choose among petits fours, cheesecake with raspberry sauce, fruits to dip in bittersweet chocolate sauce, berries with sour cream and brown sugar or fruit tarts.

Roberta Peters will give a recital of operatic songs after dinner. And to work off all the calories, there will be dancing until midnight.

Tickets from the Chamber, 921-7676.

of $100—on separate charges of harassing a bus driver and smoking on a bus.

In traffic court, Douglas E. Calvin of RD4, Princeton, was fined $85 for speeding.

Fined $65 each were Frederick F. Lamont, 3d Cresthill Road, Lawrenceville; Susan L. Tronto of Skillman, and Brian S. Saurers, Township Line Road, Belle Mead, all stop sign violations; and Casper Kennedy, 266 Birch Avenue, failure to yield the right of way.

EIGHT ARE CHARGED

With Trespassing in Estate Home. Six young adults and two juveniles—all from Lawrenceville—have been charged by Township police with trespassing in the Russell Estate, an old vacant mansion at 145 Edgerstoun Road which has recently been sold.

The group, men and women, were caught drinking beer on Drunk Driver Charged. Robert C. Bowers, 28, of 195 Nassau Street, an employee of Thompson Land, has been charged by Township police with driving while intoxicated. In addition, Mr. Bowers was charged with refusing to take a breath test and with driving while on the revoked list.

He was stopped on the Great Road at 12:48 Friday morning, after he was observed driving in an erratic manner by Ptl. Anthony Gaylord.

HOUSING OPTIONS

Topic of Seminar. The West Windsor Coalition has planned a seminar on "Housing Options in the 80s." The seminar will be held on Wednesday, October 19, at 7 in the theatre of the West-Windsor Plainsboro High School.

Topics and speakers include "One to One Matching," by Sheila Sklar of Moorestown, a discussion of house sharing by single elderly people; "Accessory Apartments," or "flats," such as Princeton Edw. D. Panitch, of East permits but West Windsor so Nassau Pharmacy, 80 Nassau Street, and Mervyn Atlas, an owner of the Forer Pharmacy, 160 Witherspoon Street, have pleaded guilty to fraud in that they obtained money under false pretenses.

Indicted by the state's Attorney General's Office in April, 1981, Panitch, 51, was charged with defrauding Blue Cross by filing false claims.

He pleaded guilty before Superior Court Judge Ermine Conley last week to seven counts of obtaining money by false pretenses, following a plea-bargain agreement in which the court agreed to drop another 192 charges. Twelve counts of forgery and one of falsifying pharmacy records were also dropped in the plea-bargaining arrangement.

According to Ileana Saros of the Attorney General's Office, the total indictment involved $25,000 in drugs; the seven counts to which Mr. Panitch pleaded guilty involve $225 in drugs.

Mr. Panitch, whose next court appearance has been scheduled for October 31, chinson of Weston, Conn.; and "Home Equity Conversion," by James Burke of Moorestown and Barbara Parkoff, housing specialist for the New Jersey State Office on Aging.

Home Equity Conversion refers to an arrangement whereby a bank takes title to a home but the previous owner is able to remain in the house and is paid a set amount per month by the bank for the value of the home. In addition to these three topics, the developer Coleman Boylan of Maneely, Inc., will speak on his development "Countryside at Princeton Junction," where he has been asked to set aside a portion for medium- and low-cost housing.

The public is invited to the seminar. There is no charge, and West Windsor residents may obtain transportation by calling Fran Ruch at 799-2400. The West Windsor Housing Coalition is a community based organization, formed a year ago as an outgrowth of interest in the Commission on Aging in exploring and developing housing alternatives in West Windsor Township.

faces a maximum penalty of 21 years in jail and a fine of $7,000. The investigation of Mr. Panich was initiated by Blue Cross officials when they found that his claims averaged $10 while those of other pharmacists averaged $3. Investigators for the state's Division of Criminal Justice interviewed more than 50 Blue Cross subscribers and 20 to 30 physicians, according to Roger Mitchell, Deputy Attorney General in charge of the case.

Faces Six Year Jail Term. Mr. Atlas faces a maximum penalty of six years in jail and a $20,000 fine for allegedly charging customers for more expensive drugs while actually dispensing cheaper ones. He has also been charged with over-reporting the amount of drugs he sold.

According to Mr. Mitchell, an investigator for Medicaid fraud was able to verify that Mr. Atlas received $11,500 for serving Merwick, the extended care facility of the Princeton Medical Center on Bayard Lane, although he never did. Mr. Mitchell said that Mr. Atlas had cashed Medicaid checks of $200 every month from July, 1977 to May, 1983.

On September 15, Mr. Atlas pleaded guilty to two charges of Medicaid fraud before state Superior Court Judge A. Jerome Moore. No court date has been set for his sentencing.

ROLE OF WJDC

Group Disputes Ad. The Witherspoon Jackson Development Corporation this week expressed concern over what it calls "an untrue published statement" in an advertisement which ran in Town Topics two weeks ago, placed by Republican mayoral candidate Richard Woodbridge.

The challenged statement said Mr. Woodbridge was primarily responsible for "obtaining the $400,000 Neighborhood Rehabilitation Grant for the Witherspoon Jackson Development Corporation."

The WJDC notes that the money was obtained, not for the WJDC, but for the Borough. Although the WJDC will be playing a part in implementing the housing rehabilitation — and in fact, was closely involved throughout the grant application process — the organization will not receive any of the grant money.

The Republican ad the following week — September 28 — deleted any mention of WJDC. A letter of protest was sent to Mr. Woodbridge September 29.

"After spending a lot of time on behalf of the WJDC to work for that grant, I'm a little hurt to have them reacting in this way," Mr. Woodbridge said. "We re-drafted the statement, so it's clear that the money did not go to them."

Asked if he thought the letter of complaint was politically motivated — his opponent, Barbara Sigmund, is a member of the WJDC Advisory Board — Mr. Woodbridge said, "I don't know, but the letter's wording seems unusually harsh. We're going to take some time to study it."

MORE PALMER SQUARE
Plans in Review. Collins Development's plans for Palmer Square north of Hurlish have been turned in to the Planning Board and are now undergoing scrutiny by Borough engineer George Oleksa.

It is expected that the plans will be on the November 9 agenda of the Environmental Design Review Committee, if Mr. Oleksa's schedule gives him time to review the plans by then.

The molecular biology building planned by Princeton University will be reviewed by the EDRC at its meeting next Wednesday, October 12 at 7:30 in the Valley Road Building. A carry-over meeting on these plans has been scheduled by the EDRC for October 19.

WRITING SCORES HIGH
For Princeton High School. Princeton High students in ninth grade last year scored beyond the New Jersey average in writing skills by a "significant margin," School Superintendent Paul Houston reported this week.

In the essay part of the New Jersey State Minimum Basic Skills test, the ninth-graders had an average score of 8.8, compared to 8.1 for similar districts and 8.9 for the state. The top possible score was 12, and seven percent of the ninth-graders made that score. Another 11 percent scored 11, and 20 percent scored 10.

On the multiple choice portion of the test, Princeton's aggregate score was 89.5, compared to 88.7 in similar school districts.

For purposes of comparison, the state groups Princeton by socio-economic factors with several other districts, such as Bernardsville, Chatham, Cherry Hill, Glen Ridge, Haddonfield, Ridgewood, Westfield and West Windsor.

28 BIRTHS LISTED
By Medical Center. In the week ending September 29, there were 15 boys and 13 girls born at Princeton Medical Center.

Sons were born to Phillip and Kimberly Staats, 3-21 Quail Ridge, Plainsboro; Roger and Jill Wojahn, 3 Wiggins Street, Frank and Barbara Picarro, 16 Taylor Avenue, Hightstown, all on September 23; Mark and Nancy Rodweller, 25 Keswick Avenue, Trenton, September 25;

Ms. Knudson-Fitzpatrick will discuss projected trends in health and fitness. Others will address the future of fitness in New Jersey and forecast trends in the 1980s.

The conference is sponsored by the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and will be held at the Hackensack Meadowlands Environment Center at DeKorte State Park in Lyndhurst. The conference is open to the public. Registration fees are $25 in advance, $30 at the door. Students and senior citizens will be admitted for $20. For more information about the conference, call the Governor's Council at 201-992-8600.

LAND USE TOPIC
"Where Do We Grow From Here?"

Is water supply a growth-limiting factor in Hopewell Valley? Can we measure and map our water supply? What effect will the Mt. Laurel II decision have on our area? Can or should Hopewell Township, Hopewell Borough and Pennington Borough plan together for future development? Are the current and proposed master plans of these three municipalities compatible? Sam Hamill, director of the Middlesex-Somerset-Mercer Regional Study Council, and Jim Gaffney, director of the Stony Brook Millstone Watersheds Association will address these and other planning questions at a public forum sponsored by the Hopewell Valley League of Women Voters, Thursday, October 13 at 7:30 at St. James Church, Eglantine Avenue, Pennington. Call Kate O'Neill, 737-3177 or Nancy Mattek, 737-1342 for information.

DEATH AND DYING

Race Week Ends Sunday

The New Jersey Race for Health Week will culminate in Princeton Sunday with the Garden State Bicycle Race coming through the Princeton Shopping Center where racers will perform a criterium and with a Princeton Race for Health Expo which will be held at the Shopping Center from 10 to 2.

The Princeton Health Department and Princeton Nautilus Fitness Center have scheduled a variety of activities including a bicycle rodeo, blood pressure and eye health screenings, free fitness evaluations and information material on alcohol abuse control, cancer prevention and how to stop smoking. There will be free massages and health and fitness counseling. The Princeton Y will sponsor a demonstration of non-violent martial arts, and the Commodities Corp. in conjunction with Princeton Nautilus will provide Bicycle Race T-shirts for all volunteers from the participating organizations plus free coffee and doughnuts. For more information, call 924-3407.

To: Mr. Cawley, Re: Sewers.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
(The following is an open letter to Borough Mayor Cawley.)

After reading your statements (Town Topics, September 27th) in reference to the sewer problems, I must clarify a few points with you.

1. If you "got religion" before Rob, then why is Mr. McChesney requesting a sewer ban and not you?

We have brought before you and the Council documentation gathered with the help of concerned citizens, local and state Health Departments, the DEP and the office of the Public Advocate. Most Borough Council members have seen, smelled and heard the overflowing manholes.

They have spoken to the affected residents, some have toured the trunk lines and witnessed design overflows, and all are aware of the extremely high fecal coliform counts in the Harry's Brook.

2. You stated Mr. Brokaw's Report is not far apart from the Metcalf & Eddy study six years earlier showing a peak flow of 35 million gallons a day. Mr. Brokaw's report, you said, "was able to measure a flow of about seven or eight million gallons a day but found the trunk lines so full they could not be measured."

What happened to those 27 million gallons a day Mr. Brokaw could not measure? It is all being bypass untreated through design overflows, through manhole covers and sewage backups.

3. Your statement that "By the end of this year we'll have spent about $1 million dollars, and we're a year and a half ahead of the time we agreed on with the State" is nothing more than a misrepresentation to conceal the truth about the serious I-I problems we are facing. What about those 27 million gallons a day Mr. Brokaw could not measure?

4. Your reference made to the contract the S.O.C. is about to sign with Betz, Converse and Murdoch is for a capacity study and not designed to identify infiltration-inflow problems.

5. I have great respect for the elderly but I also have respect for the thousands of young and elderly residents who live in this town. I wonder if you are aware that immediately below the proposed Princeton Community Housing for the elderly on Elm Road there exists a design overflow built by the S.O.C. to relieve sewage backups in that neighborhood. This design overflow, like the manholes along the Harry's Brook, bypass raw sewage into the stream during heavy rains. Is one project for the elderly more important to you than the health and safety of more than 25,000 residents?

6. Article No. 14 of the Administrative Consent Order reads: Pursuant to the New Jersey Pollution Control Act, "...any person who willfully or negligently violates N.J.S.A. 17:27A-1, et seq shall be subject upon conviction to criminal penalties of up to $25,000 per day of violation."

Mayor Cawley, the State's waters along the Harry's Brook trunk line have been analyzed more than ten times

New Parking Lot

Some time next week, the new Park and Shop lot next to the library will open for business. Both entrance and exit will be on Spring.

A one-way library driveway, for dropping and picking up passengers and making deliveries, will enter from Wiggles and exit onto Witherspoon.

Rates are: 30 cents for the first hour (10 cents for the first 20 minutes, for quick library run-ins); 30 cents for the second hour; 60 cents for the third hour; 40 cents for the fourth hour and all succeeding hours.

Participating shops, doctors, lawyers and the like, will have stamps in 30-cent denominations to present at the gate for free parking.

Parking fees will be charged from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. The lot will be open all night.

and found to be highly contaminated with sewage. We urge you to please impose an immediate sewer ban on the Harry's Brook Trunk Line until the serious infiltration-exfiltration problems are solved. We also urge you to please analyze the waters of Mountain Brook to see if its condition is as bad as Harry's Brook.

We are asking for your help. OLIVIA APPELEGATE

Homecoming Set

At Pennington School. The Pennington School will celebrate its 145th year as an independent educational institution with its annual Homecoming Day, next Saturday, Oct. 15.

Among events scheduled for the day are a musical program by the N.J. National Guard 63rd Army Band, the Pennington-Pingry football game, a concert featuring pianists Paul and Janice Hofreiter of the school staff and the school chorus and an Alumni Benefit Dance for the Memorial Chapel Fund. The latter is the only event which involves a fee. It is open to the public and tickets cost $10 per person.

Complete information about the day's activities is available from Trafton Tredick, 737-0549.

LIKE TO SKATE?

Try The Skating Club. The Princeton Skating Club will open its season with an ice skating party on Sunday, October 16, from 4 to 6 at Baker Rink on the Princeton University campus.

The public is invited to skate and sample refreshments. Club membership information will be available and Club professionals will be on hand to discuss lesson options. In addition, quality outgrown ice skates and skating apparel will be on sale.

For 50 years the Princeton Skating Club has provided central Jersey residents with ice time and instruction. Group and private lessons in figure, free style, power skating and ice dance are offered to skaters of all abilities and ages. Family sessions provide recreational ice time and a precision drill team appeals to proficient young skaters. Using both Baker and the Princeton Day School rinks, the Club offers substantial ice time to members from October through March. For additional information please call Mrs. Lee at 921-7449.

HEART HEALTH TOPIC
Of Medical Center Series. The Department of Community Health Service at Princeton Medical Center is offering a five-week program on Heart Health.

The program is designed for post coronary patients, individuals with risk factors for coronary disease and their families and friends. The classes will discuss what is coronary artery disease, the risk factors associated with it, exercise, diet and stress. Participants will have opportunities to gain knowledge, share their experiences and to ask questions.

The series will be held at the Merwick Unit of the Medical Center on Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. through October 18. Speakers will include doctors, nurses, and dieticians from the Medical Center.

There is no fee for the program, and one may come to all or any one of the meetings. For further information or to register, contact the Department of Community Health Services at 734-4626.

STEERING COMMITTEE for the Princeton High School Orchestra and Choir trip to Vienna this summer includes, among others, Jan Stonaker, chair, Whitney Bolton, Carol Thompson, Reid White, Pat Daley and Elliot Daley. With the students they will be seeking some $80,000 to enable both groups to participate in the 13th annual International Youth and Music Festival in July.

PHS Orchestra

$187,000 to pay for the trip. Last Wednesday parents of the Choir and the Orchestra were invited to the high school to hear a sampling of the "reputation for excellence" which has led to a once-in-a-lifetime invitation for their sons and daughters and to inaugurate the multiple fund-raising efforts that will be required.

For the Choir, trips of this kind and the fund raising that goes along with them are old hat. In the 17 years under Tom Hilbish and 18 years under Bill Trego and Nancianne Parrella, the Princeton High School Choir has been invited to sing at such occasions as Gian Carlo Menotti's Spoleto Festival in Italy and The Spoleto Festival of Two Worlds in Charleston, Va., in 1976. It was selected to sing in the Festival of Three Cities held in Vienna, Prague and Budapest, and 10 years ago participated in this same international youth festival in Vienna where it received a standing invitation to return. In 1980 the Choir performed for the Eastern Division of the American Choral Directors Association in New York City, which in turn led to an invitation to perform for the National ACDA Convention in New Orleans in 1981 as "the best concert high school choir in the U.S.A."

Invitation Was to Orchestra What is exciting is the meteoric rise of the Princeton High School Orchestra under the direction of Portia Sonnenfeld. In fact, the invitation to the 13th annual International Youth and Music Festival was issued to the Orchestra, and the Choir is exercising its standing invitation from 10 years ago to attend, partly to facilitate arrangements and to make the trip more fun for the kids. It will be the first time that a choir and an orchestra from the same school will participate in this festival.

It is only in the past two years that the Orchestra has taken part in competitions. Mrs. Sonnenfeld says that state festivals refuse to give a rating or rank participating orchestras. "When I thought the students were eager to prove themselves," she says, "I began looking further afield." In May, 1982, the PHSO won first prize in the National Orchestra Contest in Washington.

Last February, the Orchestra was invited to perform at the Music Educators National Conference in Boston. Four days later it was the only orchestra in the United States to be invited to play for the American Association of School Administrators' national convention in Atlantic City. The invitation to Vienna came about because the North American representative of the International Youth and Music Festival was in the audience during the Orchestra's performance in Boston, Mrs. Sonnenfeld says.

Funds for these trips were raised by the students organizing themselves into trios and quartets to play chamber music at parties, receptions and weddings. This will be stepped up as part of the fund raising for Vienna.

Organization Vital. When the invitation arrived last spring, a Steering Committee was formed to begin the year-long planning, for as Mrs. Sonnenfeld says, "Everything must be organized to the hilt." Carmen Prezioso is trip coordinator, Florence Burke is business manager, and with Mrs. Sonnenfeld, Mr. Trego and Mrs. Parrella as directors, they represent the school on the Steering Committee.

For the parents, Jan Stonaker is chair; Whitney Bolton and Margaret Bolton are in charge of publicity; Harry and Julie Clark, auctioneer and newsletter; Eliot and Pat Daley, brochure, secretary and special events; Stanley Katz, foundations; Betty Sapoch, corporate contacts; Mitch and Anne Seltzer, brochure; Carol Thompson, corporate contacts; Harriet Vawter, special events; Diane Waltman, foundations; Joan Zielinski, corporations, raffle; and Reid White, cabaret.

Student officers of the Choir and the Orchestra are also members of the Steering Committee. For the Choir they are Simon Miller, Kelly Caulk, Amy Messersmith, Rick Baragan and Troy Norris. Orchestra leaders are Ruth von Goeler, Aileen Tsui, Marna Seltzer and Sarah Bolton. There are some 15 students who are members of both groups, and festival organizers have promised to arrange the scheduling in Vienna so that there aren't conflicts between the two.

members put in an estimated 20,000 person-hours of rehearsal during the school year — and more than twice that many hours in individual practice. A large number are Merit Scholars, many have responsible positions on the school paper and year book, and some even manage to be top wrestlers, baseball and tennis players.

Scheduling Complex. Scheduling extra rehearsals is often complicated by members' involvement in the language clubs, math and science activities and the debating team. Approximately 10 students each year have won recognition in the highly competitive Stokes Prize auditions, and several commute to music schools like Juilliard for specialized instruction.

To send this prodigious, hard working talent abroad, parents have pledged whatever amount they felt they could afford. The amounts have gone into a pool, administered by Mrs. Burke, to protect anonymity. The shortfall yet to be raised is $80,000.

The sale of enormous chrysanthemums last weekend was a beginning, and a successful one. Students will hold Student Work Month beginning October 15 during which all proceeds from leaf-raking, car-washing and baby-sitting jobs will go to the fund. A creative brochure which will be used in approaches to corporations and foundations is at the printer, and an auction is in the planning stages.

Reid White will bring back members of the original Inn Cabaret for a number of special evening performances in January, and there may be a benefit concert by both groups in the spring. If the goal has been reached, that concert will be more of a "thank-you" to the community than a fund-raiser, Mr. Trego says.

Meanwhile work is already under way to prepare the music for the festival. Audition tapes of their best work have been sent off by both the Choir and the Orchestra for consideration for performance on the Austrian Radio Network. Each choir and orchestra will perform a specified piece at an adjudication concert judged by musicians of the calibre of the music directors of the British Broadcasting Corporation, the Innsbruck Opera and the Vienna Konzerthaus.

"I think we have to expect to be judged by extremely severe standards," Mrs. Sonnenfeld says. "The judges very freely distribute poor and fair ratings."

The winning proud that its public school ensembles will combine to form the Festival Choir and the Festival Orchestra for the final closing concert.

The orchestral repertoire which Mrs. Sonnenfeld is considering ranges from Vivaldi through Elliott Carter, and will include one complete symphony in addition to shorter works. In addition the Orchestra and Choir will also collaborate in the preparation of a major work. The Choir is planning pieces "appropriate to Vienna," according to Mr. Trego, and this means Brahms and Bruckner, as well as lighter music and spirituals.

The excellence of the Choir and the Orchestra seems to be the result of a number of factors, one of which is a "farm system" of music offerings from the elementary grades on up. Students are encouraged early to sing without audition and to try an instrument, and then they are encouraged to develop their potential to the fullest.

Another factor is the academic emphasis and the full credit given for participation in each of the several choruses and instrumental ensembles available at the high school. Then, too, there is the solid instruction in reading music, in elementary music theory and music history that goes along with preparing music for performance.

The community can be proud that its public school system produces this kind of success, and indeed the Steering Committee's motto on the cover of its brochure says it all: "Vienna Has Honored Them — You Can Too."

STATE $5 SOUGHT

For Institute Preservation. The conservationists hoping to preserve the farmland on which the Institute for Advanced Study would like to construct a housing development will receive some help this week from the Democratic candidate for mayor of Princeton Borough, Barbara Sigmund.

Mrs. Sigmund will lead a group of concerned citizens back to her old stomping grounds, the Mercer County Board of Freeholders, on Thursday at noon.

The Princeton group will attempt to convince the freeholders to form an agricultural retention board which could serve as a conduit for state funds raised through a referendum passed by the voters in 1981.

The bond issue raised a total of $50 million and Mrs. Sigmund and her group, which will include Lawrence Norris Kerr, Jim Sayen, Bill Potter, Howard Myers, and a representative of the Mercer-Somerset-Middlesex Regional Study Council, hope that some of those funds can be used to help acquire the land from the Institute and preserve it.

Mrs. Sigmund conceded that her interest in the land was not unrelated to her campaign in the Borough: "It's part of our common treasury," she said. "We all have an interest in it—Township and Borough alike. And I'm going to argue that all of Mercer County has an interest in it."

the Philadelphia and southern New Jersey area, with a reputation for the rapid construction of quality homes. Jim Firestone, of Firestone Realtors, the selling agent, won't divulge the purchase price, because the deal has not closed. But the asking price was $995,000 and the property has been on the market for several years, he says.

A year or so ago, Mercer Christian Academy sought Planning Board approval to locate a school on the Cook property but was turned down. Neighbors in the Gallup Road area to the south objected, citing the traffic that would be generated by a school. Toll Brothers is understood to be planning 27 custom-built homes in line with the Gallup Road properties.

The land lies in an R-1 zone where two-acre lots are the minimum.

And Still More. Also in the heartland of Princeton 24 lots are currently being developed by J. Robert Hillier on 39 acres of the Knox property on the corner of Mountain Avenue and The Great Road. Nearby the Clarke property, 80 acres including the ponds that once were the source of ice for all of Princeton in the days before mechanical refrigeration, has been sold to Walter Slawsky, a former Pennsylvania resident.

Mr. Slawsky does not intend to develop the property at this time but rather to renovate the house and perhaps build an additional dwelling. The principal and owner of FAI insurance company in Summit, Mr. Slawsky also has a construction company, Jericho Mountain Builders, that built him a large brick Georgian home at 132 Hunt Drive.

Dominating its 6.6 acre lot with a three-bedroom guest house, pool and cabana, in addition to, and attached to, the main five-bedroom home, the house was no sooner completed in elaborate detail than it was placed on the market for $1.5 million. It had been Mr. Slawsky's dream to own the Knox or the Clarke property, truly some of the loveliest land in Princeton. After a year of negotiating.

he was able to purchase the Clarke property for $920,000. It was originally listed at $1.5 million.

On Cherry Hill Road, the Princeton builder Benedict Yedlin has an option on 60.7 acres known as the Foullet property and given to Princeton University by Alfred Foullet two years ago. Mr. Yedlin has an application before the Planning Board for 26 houses clustered on two cul-de-sacs of 13 houses each and a wide belt of open space.

And Shadow Oaks, a Lawrenceville and Cranbury developer, has recently purchased a 16-lot approved subdivision in the Bouvant Drive area. Like Toll Brothers, Shadow Oaks is known for custom built colonial homes.

Interest is high in the Salzman property off Montadale Road, a 13- or 14-lot approved subdivision, for sale because of the illness of the owner. Todd Peyton says that telephone calls regarding the Lambert Estate on Pretty Brook Road have increased dramatically after it became known that Township Committee may re-zone that property, not properly on the Ridge, back to a two-acre minimum.

Caroline Dinsmore, director of real estate for Princeton University, says she is besieged by calls from developers of all kinds interested in the University lands bounded by Route One, Harrison Street, Lake Carnegie and Alexander Road. The land has recently been re-zoned as an educational district by West Windsor, and the University intends to keep it as a buffer, Ms. Dinsmore says.

Pressure of this kind drives prices, which are already high, still higher. A two-acre unimproved lot in the Brookstone area recently closed at $130,000.

Princeton residents, shaking their heads over the "city" that seems to be a-building on Route One, may want to turn around and take a long look in to the heartland of their own community, for change is coming there as well.

Will You Join Us?

That's the question behind the outstretched hand, as the Auxiliary of the Medical Center celebrates its 30th anniversary.

"Join us" in doing what?

Well, planning and running the annual June Fete ...
Staging the annual Christmas Boutique ...
Staffing the Center's Gift Shop ...
Organizing and running the Rummage Sale ...
Overseeing all the other events that raise money for the hospital ...
And being a Medical Center volunteer, although that's a separate group from the Auxiliary.

Today's Auxiliary of the Medical Center began in January, 1953, with the union of three groups: the Women's Auxiliary, the Hospital Aid Committee and the Doctors' Wives.

The Auxiliary — formerly the Women's Auxiliary — had been founded two years earlier at the request of the hospital's board of trustees to co-ordinate fund-raising projects. These included things like dinner dances, performances at McCarter, golf days, a baby picture service and so on.

The next year — 1952 — Mrs. David B. Miller conceived the idea of the June Fete. The first one, held in June of 1954, brought in a whopping (1954-style "whopping") $10,000.

And the following year, 1953, the Hospital

Aid Committee and the Doctors' Wives voted to become members of the Auxiliary, and today's Auxiliary was born.

Men as well as women are cordially welcomed into the Auxiliary. Members pay $5 a year in dues. For the $5, they receive a newsletter, enjoy an annual lunch and help a scholarship fund for young people headed for a medical career.

In-service volunteers are a separate group, although many are members of the Auxiliary. Men, women and young people who want to volunteer for service at the Medical Center are invited to call the Center's Volunteer Office (921-7000) to arrange for an interview.

CLEAVER CO. SOLD
To Three Principals. The J.P. Cleaver Company, a management training firm founded in Princeton 27 years ago by John P. Cleaver and bought by Hay Associates of Philadelphia two years ago, has been spun off by Hay and sold again.

The new principals are Mr. Cleaver, chairman, Richard B. Doss of Houston, Tex., president, and Aubrey Huston Jr., of Princeton, executive vice president. Mr. Cleaver has been with the firm, most recently in Boston, from the beginning. Mr. Doss and Mr. Huston have served a number of years with the organization.

The company is involved in management training and teaching proprietary systems in organization, management and development. As a comprehensive resource for the management of people, the company concentrates on the human requirements for jobs and the placement of people to increase productivity and prevent obsolescence. Managers are trained to evaluate and motivate their employees in order to achieve job compatibility and career direction for future advancement.

The new firm will continue its office in Boston and in Houston, and expects to establish offices in Princeton, Chicago, Atlanta, and Phoenix. The Princeton office is expected to open shortly in Princeton Professional Park, 601 Ewing Street, under Mr. Huston's direction.

The roster of tenants includes Home Link of Princeton, which has leased 5,200 square feet. The company owns the Princeton cable TV franchise.

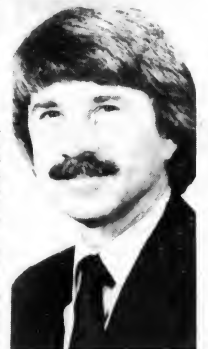

Others are Amper Politzner & Matia, certified public accountants; Sofsel, Inc., computer software; P.R. Management, executive search and recruitment; The Princeton Office, time-shared office space and business services; Strauss, Wills, O'Neill & Voorhees, attorneys-at-law; Pension & Profit Sharing Services, financial planning, and Choice Personnel.

The three-building complex is a joint venture of Harrison Fraker Architects and Short and Ford, architects. The Princeton Energy Group served as solar consultants, and the project incorporates a number of energy saving solar design features. It was honored in the first National Passive Design Awards competition for these features.

SMALL ANIMALS GAIN
From Pet Care Fees. Beck and Call has ended its second annual Small Animal Rescue League (SARL) month.

Ten percent of all pet care fees earned by the Assistance Group from August 1 through Labor Day have been donated to SAVE this year and last. Helen Hersey, founder of Beck and Call, said that the proceeds to SAVE this year were twice that of last year.

chitects, has expanded its office space by moving upstairs. Offices are still at 240 Nassau. Douglas Kelbaugh has also announced that Ron Ellis of Essex Falls, has been made an associate of the firm.

Last month, Mr. Kelbaugh and Mr. Lee gave papers at the Eighth National Passive Solar Conference in Santa Fe. They described Mr. Kelbaugh's own house, on Pine Street in Princeton; the firm's Senior Citizen Housing Project in Roosevelt and the evolution of their philosophy of solar architecture.

PERSONNEL NOTES
Dr. Robert A. Bartolini of West Windsor Township has been named head, optical systems, in the Optical Systems and Display Materials Research Laboratory of RCA Laboratories.

Ms. Malatich is a member of the Mercer County Board of Realtors, the Princeton Chamber of Commerce and the Mercer County "200" Club.

Sandra Murray has been appointed vice president in charge of corporate services for Weichert Realtors.

For the past four years she has served as director of Weichert Relocation Services. In her new post she will continue to oversee the Relocation office and will have additional responsibilities for advertising, operations, training and the planning of new corporate programs.

RELIGION In Princeton

CHURCH UNION FOCUS of Meeting Here. Some 60 of the key planners in the effort to unite nine American church denominations will gather here October 4-6 to work on the next major steps.

They will be updating theological agreements, working on such procedures as the means of bringing ministers into a single ministry, and proposing steps to be taken in 1984 to further the ties between the nine churches.

It will be the first joint meeting ever of these three principal working commissions of the Consultation on Church Union (COCU), a 21-year-old association in which churches comprising 23 million members are represented.

COCU, which already has achieved agreement among delegates on faith, worship, sacraments and ministry matters, will hold its next full meeting November 26-30, 1984, in Baltimore.

BULLETIN NOTES
The Pennington Presbyterian Church will hold its annual Harvest Festival on Saturday from 10 to 3 at the church grounds on Main Street, Pennington.

The Country Store will offer canned goods, jellies, frozen homemade soups, N.Y. cheddar cheese, pumpkins and other farm produce. Other foods for sale will include barbecued chicken, hogies, tacos, homebaked pies, cakes and breads, caramel apples and funnel cakes. More than 400 African violet plants, as well as dried flower arrangements and perennials, will be available.

Handcrafted toys, jewelry and holiday items will be sold at the crafts booth, and there will be games, relays, puppets and a pony cart ride for children. Other activities include a live auction at 11, an ongoing service auction and a "trifles and treasures" room.

The Festival of Praise Choir and the Sparrows, accompanied by the Concert Brass, will present a program of choral, solo and instrumental music at the Hopewell United Methodist Church on Friday evening at 7:30. Featuring traditional and contemporary songs, the choir will also include some well known hymns.

Members and friends of the church along with the Festival of Praise Choir invite the public to be part of this evening. A love offering will be received for the choir to help them with expenses. The Church is located at 20 Blackwell Avenue in Hopewell. Additional information is available by calling 466-9131.

Betty Nute, specialist in Latin American Affairs and former secretary for Latin America, Church World Service, will speak Monday at 8 on "U.S. Foreign Policy in Central America and the Caribbean" at Murray-Dodge Hall.

Princeton Monthly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends and the Princeton University Chapel are sponsors of the lecture. All are welcome.

All Saints' Church will hold its Flea Market Saturday from 9 to 3 at the church off Terhune Road. The event will be held rain or shine. Proceeds will benefit church and community outreach programs.

The Kingston Presbyterian Church will sponsor the showing of the film series, "Focus on the Family," starting Sunday at 9:15 a.m. at the church on Route 27, Kingston.

Produced by James Dobson, author of books on parenting, child development and marriage, the seven part series will be shown each Sunday morning during Church School time through November 20. The series begins with a film entitled "The Strong Willed Child" and ends with one called "What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew About Women: Money, Sex and Children." In between are two films on adolescents, one on "Christian Fathering," and more on what wives wish their husbands knew and on shaping the will of a child without breaking the spirit.

All are invited.

Church School has begun at The First Reformed Church in Rocky Hill. Classes for children, pre-school through 8th grade, begin at 9:15 and conclude at 9:50. The theme this month is World Hunger.

Ann Harshman and Ted Cook are superintendent of the Sunday School program and chairman of Christian Education, respectively.

The worship service begins at 10. Nursery care is provided.

Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church will hold its Men's Day on Sunday October 9 at the 11 a.m. service. Dr. William Watley, associate general secretary of the Consultation on Church Union (COCU) will be the guest preacher. A coffee fellowship will follow.

All are invited. John Madden is chairman of the Men's Day Committee. The Rev. Fred D. Tennie Jr. is pastor of the church, located at 170 Witherspoon Street.

OBITUARIES

Dr. G. Arnold Cronk, 69, of Evergreen Circle, a pioneer in research on oral contraceptives, died September 28 at Princeton Medical Center.

A resident of Princeton since 1960, Dr. Cronk was born in Syracuse, N.Y., and earned his medical degree from Syracuse University College of Medicine in 1939. He served as a doctor with the U.S. Navy during World War II and in 1950 became a diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine. He spent 14 years on the staff at Syracuse University, serving as associate professor of health and preventive medicine and director of the Student Health Services.

Cronk was a member of the American Medical Association, the New York Academy of Sciences, the Medical Directors Association and the American College of Clinical Pharmacology and Chemotherapy. He was a member of the Bridgewater, Va., College board of trustees as well as chairman of the Bridgewater Parents fund-raising committee. He also acted as vice chairman for the Syracuse University 1983 fund-raising campaign.

Surviving are his wife, Margaret G. Cronk; three daughters, Sondra Cronk of Wallingford, Pa., Cindy Nowina of Toronto, Ontario, and Barbara Clayton of Winchester, Va.; his mother, Dorothea Cronk of Syracuse, N.Y.; and three grandchildren.

Private burial was held in the Princeton Cemetery under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. A memorial service was held at Nassau Presbyterian Church.

A fellow of the American College of Physicians, Dr.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Heart Association, 3490 Route One, Princeton.

Adelle V. Mitchell, 49, former executive director of the Stony Brook - Millstone Watersheds Association, died September 1 of cancer in Dallas, Texas.

Ms. Mitchell was a former resident of Pennington. She left her position with the Watersheds Association in 1979 to coordinate interstate water basin agreements for the President's Water Resources Council in Washington, D.C. Subsequently, she was named Chief, Water Supply Branch, Ground Water Protection Section for the federal Environmental Protection Agency Region in Dallas.

In July 1982, she received the National EPA Gold Medal Award for administering the most successful program for controlling the injection of industrial wastes into ground water. Before joining the Watersheds Association, she was Environmental Ombudsman for the State of Ohio.

She is survived by her children, Irene, Annette and Scott, all of Dallas.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, October 22, at 11 a.m. at the Unitarian Church of Princeton. Contributions may be made to the Unitarian Church Memorial Fund.

Frank Toth Jr., 66, of North Post Road, Princeton Junction, died September 30 in the Veterans Hospital, East Orange.

Mr. Toth was born in Menlo Park and had been a resident of Princeton Junction for many years. An Army veteran of World War II, he retired 10 years ago as a fireman-engineer with the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Helen Wilkinson of Princeton Junction, Mrs. Mary Breece of Trenton and Anna Toth of Lawrenceville; three brothers, Charles, Michael and Henry Toth, all of Princeton Junction, and several nieces and nephews.

Mass of Christian Burial was held at St. Anthony of Padua Church, Hightstown, with burial in Princeton Memorial Park, Robbinsville. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society, 88 Lakewood Drive, Trenton 08648.

Howard I. Harris, 78, of Cranbury, died September 29 in Princeton Medical Center after a brief illness.

Born in Long Branch, Mr. Harris lived in the Cranbury and Princeton areas, operating his own painting and decorating business until his retirement. He was a former deacon of the First Presbyterian Church of Cranbury and was active in area Boy Scout work.

He is survived by his wife, Miriam Weiss Harris; two sons, Robert A. Harris of Lancaster, Pa., and Albert E. Harris of Cincinnati, Ohio; and nine grandchildren.

A graveside service was held at Greenwood Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the Princeton Medical Center Building Fund or the First Presbyterian Church of Cranbury.

Thomas U. Purrington, 88, died September 27 in Merwick following a long illness.

Born in Haydenville, Mass., he was graduated from Rutgers College in 1914 with a degree in electrical engineering. He was working for Thomas Edison in Orange when World War I began, and he enlisted in the U.S. Navy and served as a chief electrician's mate in Belfast, Ireland.

After the War, Mr. Purrington worked with Atwater Kent before joining Western Electric Company in 1922. He was the appointment manager at Western Electric at the time of his retirement in 1960.

He was a member and former post commander of the W.E. Kearny Post, American Legion in Kearny and a life member and former president of the New Jersey Numismatic Society. He was also a member of the American Society of Engineers, the Old Guard and the Nassau Presbyterian Church. Mr. Purrington was permanent class president of his Rutgers College class.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Rose P. Cortelyou of Princeton and Mrs. Mary P. Beissel of Lansdowne, Pa.; a brother, Lt. Col. Richard H. Purrington of Middletown Springs, Vt., and 14 nieces and nephews.

The service was held at Nassau Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Wallace M.

Alston Jr., senior minister, officiating. Burial with full military honors was held in Westminster Cemetery in Philadelphia. Arrangements were under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Class of 1914, Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

Jane M. Birch, 85, of Sergeant Street, died October 3 at her home.

Mrs. Birch was a lifelong Princeton resident. She retired in 1956 after 30 years of service as secretary to the head of the English department at Princeton University.

Wife of the late Leland G. Birch, she is survived by a son, L. Gordon Birch of Princeton.

The service will be held Wednesday at 2 at Trinity Episcopal Church, the Rev. John Crocker Jr., rector, officiating. Burial will be in Princeton Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad, PO Box 329, Princeton.

Hazel Sked de Balliere, of Pennington, died October 3 in the Merwick Unit of Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Pennington, Mrs. de Balliere had lived in the Pennington area all her life. She was past Worthy Matron of Hopewell Chapter No. 112 Order of the Eastern Star, past president of the Pennington Women's Club and a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Hopewell.

Surviving are her husband, J. Lindsay de Balliere; a daughter, Mary Louise van der Wilden of Fair Haven; and a granddaughter, Amy L. van der Wilden of Fair Haven.

The service will be held this Wednesday at 2 at the Blackwell Memorial Home, 21 North Main Street, Pennington, with the Rev. Robert Berringer of the First United Presbyterian Church of Hopewell officiating. Burial will be in Pennington Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the First United Presbyterian Church of Hopewell or a charity of the donor's choice.

John E. Davis, 57, president of the Blackwell Memorial Home in Pennington, died October 3 in Mercer Medical Center.

Born in Rochester, N.Y., Mr. Davis had lived in Pennington for 33 years. A former member of the Pennington Board of Health, he was an alumnus of The Pennington School and a Navy veteran of World War II.

He was a member of the Pennington Lions Club; the First United Methodist Church of Pennington; the American Legion of Hopewell; VFW Post No. 3754 of Pennington; the National, New Jersey and Mercer County Funeral Directors Association; Cyrus Lodge No. 148 of Pennington; the Scottish Rite Valley of Trenton and the Pennington Grange.

Surviving are his wife, Elizabeth Blackwell Davis; a son, Jonathan Davis, and a daughter, Susan Davis, both at home.

The service will be held Thursday at 11 at the Blackwell Memorial Home, 21 North Main Street, Pennington, the Rev. James Biggs, pastor, and the Rev. James Marshall, both of the First United Methodist Church of Pennington, officiating with the Rev. Dr. Rollo Michael, pastor of the Woodbury Methodist Church. Burial will be in Harborton Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the First United Methodist Church of Pennington, Main Street, Pennington.

"PROBABLY THE BEST DEAL ON JEFFERSON ROAD"

that's what all the agents say. And a real cream puff it is. Three bedroom half duplex in Princeton Borough. Living room, dining room, attic hideaway (or bedroom). New kitchen, new bath, new hardwood floors down stairs — and the whole house freshly painted. Surprisingly large rooms and a nice deep lot. A great buy for some lucky someone.

A TOUCH OF CLASS

In a stunning residence on six plus wooded acres. Formal entry court with miniature fruit and espaliered trees, imposing 2 story stucco home in a neo-classic design. It offers lovely, light soaring open spaces that make up the living, dining and kitchen areas of the first floor. Upstairs, a private master bedroom suite with library, loft and deck; in a separate wing, 2 more bedrooms, each with deck, and shared bath.

Flanking one side of the entry courtyard is a charming guest house of large living room or office, sleeping alcove and 1/2 bath - all with its own private terrace. Potential apartment, anyone?

This is an exciting listing for a very special buyer. Call for brochure.

FOUR NEW LISTINGS

IN PRINCETON'S EVER-POPULAR RIVERSIDE AREA on a lovely wooded lot - this stunning 4 bedroom, 3 bath traditional house has spacious living room, large formal dining room flanking high-ceilinged center hall. At the back and a few steps down is an over-size informal living room with fireplace and sliding doors to a working greenhouse as well as a bedroom and a full bath. In addition, a bright cheerful modern kitchen, 3 bedrooms and 2 more baths, 2-car garage, basement and much more we can tell you about. Offered at $275,000

THIS NEW LISTING IN PRINCETON TOWNSHIP Western Section is, as you can see, rather hard to photograph. It looks like one story on the front but on the sunny back garden side it is 2 full floors with delightful decks looking into the trees. There is a large living room with fireplace, dining, study, roomy gourmet kitchen with lots of storage and family eating or lounging space, main floor master bedroom and bath. Downstairs: big family room with fireplace, 2 bedrooms and another full bath. There are pretty terraces, garage, lovely well-landscaped grounds with plenty of privacy. Offered at $285,000

CENTRALLY LOCATED IN PRINCETON close to schools and shopping with just enough land for a pretty garden and not too much hard labor - this splendid two story brick center hall Colonial has large living room, formal dining room, eat-in-kitchen, laundry and bath, 4 family bedrooms, 2 full baths plus a complete family apartment on the lower level with living area, bath and bedroom. There is a pretty terrace and barbeque. Offered at $175,000

A LOVELY COUNTRY PROPERTY WITH 18th Century house near a meandering brook on 36 acres of rolling land. The house has 3 sitting rooms, dining room, kitchen, 4 bedrooms and 2 baths, 2 fireplaces and another we would love to see opened. In addition there is a small carriage barn and a huge two story barn - a wonderful place for a small horse farm. Offered at $279,000

FOUR ALMOST NEW LISTINGS

THIS PRINCETON BOROUGH 3 bedroom residence has attractive living room with big window overlooking back yard and swimming pool, separate dining room, ultra-modern kitchen. The special feature is a 2-room suite with doors to terrace, powder room with space for tub or shower - ideal for family or guests. There is also a finished basement with tile floor and drop ceiling. We can tell you more. Offered at $145,000

THIS IS JUST A SAMPLE OF THE KIND OF HOUSE you can build at "Applewood" - one of our newest custom home areas adjoining the Hopewell Valley Country Club. The builder can build a house just like this (his own) with large living room, formal dining room, modern kitchen, study and huge family room with fireplace plus master suite on first floor. Upstairs: 3 bedrooms and a great room with stairway down to the family room as well as front hall.

Call us to hear more about what you can build on 2 to 5 acre lots in a spectacular setting in Hopewell.

ONE OF OUR FAVORITE HISTORIC HOUSES in Princeton Borough is this Charleston style that is really an 18th Century brick house with 19th Century additions to create this look. The main part of the house has large entrance hall, living room with fireplace and high ceilings, formal dining room, kitchen and powder room. Upstairs: 5 bedrooms, one opening to the top porch. The back wing has a delightful apartment with living room (fireplace), eat-in-kitchen, and stairway to second floor bedroom and bath, and completely private entrance. There is a pretty garden and 2-car garage. Offered at $295,000

NOT ONLY PRETTY BUT UNBELIEVABLY LIVABLE is this center hall, 5 bedroom traditional house on Cherry Brook Drive in Montgomery Township (so close to downtown Princeton). There are formal living and dining rooms, paneled family room with fireplace, modern eat-in-kitchen and a magnificent deck overlooking secluded grounds. Offered at $157,500

Candidates for Princeton Township Committee Discuss Issues of Local and Regional Concern

Bernard Miller, Democrat

"There is no joint Borough-Township Traffic Study Commission and we should do this as soon as possible."

Looking ahead to election day, November 8, Town Topics begins with this issue the first of a series of interviews with candidates for Borough and Township public office.

This week, the four Township Committee candidates are featured in interviews, each one interviewed separately without running-mate; next week, Borough Council and mayoralty candidates will speak. In the final weeks, the series will return to each municipality and there will be a summary and an updating in the fifth and last week.

Two of the standard three-year terms expire this year on the five-member Township Committee and the incumbents, both Republicans, have decided to run for re-election. They are Winthrop S. Pike, running for his second term, and William Cherry, trying for a third term.

Democratic challengers are Eleanor Lewis and Bernard Miller.

Mr. Pike, 101 Leabrook Lane, is a physicist at RCA. He is a former member of the school board and served as its president for several years.

Dr. Cherry, 24 Dempsey, also a physicist, is retired from RCA.

Ms. Lewis, 22 Clearview, a Princeton lawyer, is a former assistant commissioner of insurance for New Jersey and was the first executive director of the New Jersey Public Interest Research Group.

Mr. Miller, 37 Wheatfield, is founder and president of ECON, Inc. a research and consulting firm to governments on economics and the management of large-scale programs.

Mayor is a Committeeman. In the Township, voters do not vote directly for a mayor; instead, the "mayor" is technically the chair of Township Committee, elected by other members of the Committee.

The mayor is always a member of the majority party, often — but not always — the senior member of that party. This year, Republicans have a 4-1 majority on Committee, and Mr. Pike was chosen mayor.

This year, if both Democrats win, the balance will tip and the mayor would presumably be Barbara Cantrill, at present the only Democrat on Committee. In a money for our sewer trust sense, therefore, almost every fund and dry up our rateables election is a mayoralty election in Princeton Township, more in rateables. That's not the question of who will much growth in a $600 million be, or could be, mayor is total."

Ms. Lewis suggests a short, immediate ban to be in effect only until "specific, current data are available — then we issue. Both Democrats give first importance to what Ms. Lewis calls "deterioration in the quality of life" and Mr. Miller refers to as "over-development and creeping urbanization."

From his office on State Road, he watches rush-hour traffic and declares the Township needs to work "more positively" with its neighbors, even as far afield as South Brunswick. He points to many joint Borough-Township enterprises, but asks, "Why is there no joint Traffic Study Commission? We should set one up as fast as possible — people driving to jobs in or out of Princeton and to their homes in Hillsboro — there are problems that aren't being dealt with."

Ms. Lewis says, "the Township's failure to meet more often with its neighbors — in this case, Montgomery — meant that the Township didn't know in advance about the S-92 by-pass alignment."

"There is probably a better 92 route, not through homes or rocky sections or Green Acres land. We must sit down with Montgomery and look over the map. We must work with the region, and I think this has been a failing of Committee."

Cherry in Agreement. Asked about issues, Dr. Cherry says "It's hard to say: the Democrats haven't said anything we'd dispute."

And he gives top importance to S-92: "It's the most important thing on the table because of the urgency of time. It could slip through our fingers altogether, and it's absolutely essential to the Borough and very important to the Township. It is terribly important to get an alignment that does the job and isn't an environmental disaster."

None of the candidates wants the kind of overall sewer ban that has been proposed.

Mr. Pike, who talks about sewers before any other subject, remarks "They were top priorities in my New Year's Day address. We must remain committed to funding — although it won't be fast enough for some people."

"The Brokaw report isn't the be-all-end-all; it's a good start and its 'inadequacy' is a question of degree."

Pike Opposes Sewer Ban. "I don't agree with a sewer ban now. It would dry up the

A Quarter of a Century as Booking Manager Recalled by McCarter's William Lockwood Jr.

Did you see Katharine Cornell and Brian Aherne in "Dear Liar" when it played McCarter Wednesday, October 12, 1968?

If you did, and if you're planning to see rock singer Marshall Crenshaw in Dillon gym October 14, you will have spanned the entire quarter-century career of William Lockwood Jr. as McCarter's booking manager.

"We were like Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland in those old musicals, 'Hey, kids, let's put on a show!'"

"We", in 1968, was Dana Productions, consisting of three Princeton University seniors — Bill, Tom Sternberg and Ralph Miller. (Dana was a girl-friend.)

The hour was right: Mc-

Carter was dark, except for a stray road company. Bill had been going to University Con-

They rented McCarter. With Tom's savings as capital, the three approached Professor Alan Downer, the University's representative for McCarter, and made a deal to rent the theatre, provided Dr. Downer approved what Dana booked.

25-YEAR RUN: William Lockwood Jr., about to enter his second home — McCarter Theatre. Bill has been cert at the theatre since he was a little boy, had been an usher, ticket-taker and general volunteer for manager Marguerite McAneny, working with her in the University's theatre collection as well — so why not?

"It sold out! I'd been in Maine that summer, and when I got back, I found our post office box couldn't hold all the reservations — they handed me cartons full! All we'd used was McCarter's mailing list. We didn't advertise.

"Well, we said, there's nothing to this! But we found out differently. 'Mary Stuart' with Eva Le Gallienne and Signe Hasso was a tough sell. But we booked Carl Sandburg into Alexander Hall with no reserved seats, and people lined up outside.

tickets, and the University Store as the outlet, they sold out.

"The Kingston Trio in those days was the equivalent, I suppose, of The Rolling Stones — really BIG."

But the day before they were due, Dana got a phone call. One of the trio was sick, and Kingston would have to cancel.

"I had to go on stage at the Prince-Tiger dance that Friday night and announce Saturday's cancellation. It was the most dreadful moment of that year..."

"As we gave out refunds, we began discovering odd tickets — different paper and ink, clearly counterfeit. With the help of the University proctors, we laid a trap, and found that a student had printed 500 fakes. We'd never have known, if it hadn't been for the cancellation. The student was expelled."

That first year Dana also brought Hal Holbrook as Mark Twain, Dorothy Stickney as Edna St. Vincent Millay, Arnold Moss in "The Tempest."

On to the Coast. Dana's graduation in '59 was followed, for Bill, by a tour in the Army, then Tom and Bill, without Ralph, went to California with the backing of impresario S. Hurk and made Dana Attractions the major performing arts booker for the San Francisco area — Segovia, Cliburn, the Bolshoi, films.

By then, McCarter had become a Performing Arts Center, and Bill felt the pull of the east.

"I've had three mentors in my life," he muses. "Marguerite McAneny, Alan Downer — I wrote my senior thesis on David Belasco under

"perked up," and he even hopes for sold-out houses by subscription.

Many old friends return again and again: Marcel Marceau first came in pre-Dana times, when Bill was a freshman in the '55 season, and he'll be back in March. "Never an unsold seat, for Marceau, and since he doesn't do one-nighters any more, his appearance here is a kind of 'thank you' for the honorary degree Princeton gave him in 1982."

Looking for New Talent. "You're always looking for new artists, a new equation. The Flying Karamazov Brothers... Pilobolus — we brought them when they were new and unknown, now they sell out. The Paul Taylor Dance Company is finally coming into its own... Eliot Feld's dance company — we've stuck by them, and now they're developing a following."

"For the concerts, we've had Richard Stoltzman, Yo Yo Ma, Emanuel Ax, Alicia de Larrocha, Jean-Pierre Rampal long before they were sell-outs."

"We brought Artur Schnabel here for the first time, Martha Graham when she was still dancing, the Bob and Ray Show, Yertushenko reading his poetry..."

So another 25 years is clearly in the wings.

"The ultimate satisfaction is standing in the rear — I never sit down — and watching the chemistry, the action-reaction between audience and performance: Bruce Springsteen in Jadwin Gym; Preservation Hall, when Princeton people you'd never dream would parade around a hall, march around a hall; the very special interaction in Alexander with 'The Play of Daniel'; the quality of silence in an audience and the question is it working, or not?"

"That's the ultimate satisfaction."
—Katharine H. Brettnall

MUSIC In Princeton

BEEHOVEN'S NINTH SET
By New Jersey Symphony. The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will open its 61st season with a performance of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony on Saturday, October 15, at 8:30 at Trenton's War Memorial.

Kenneth Schermerhorn, former music director of the New Jersey Symphony and of the Milwaukee Symphony, will return to conduct the program, which will also include the Leonore Overture No. 3. Joining the Orchestra for the Ninth Symphony will be Lise Karlsson, soprano; Betty Allen, mezzo-soprano; Alan Crabb, tenor; Terry Cook, bass; and the Pro Arte Choral, Roger Nierenberg, director.

Written in 1825, Beethoven's Ninth Symphony was the first symphony to combine chorus, soloists and orchestra. The Brunswick sites are also vocal forces join the orchestra under consideration.

In the final movement to sing the "Ode to Joy," based on a Schiller poem. Mr. Schermerhorn was music director of the New Jersey Symphony from 1962-68 and of the Milwaukee Symphony from 1968-80. He has also conducted leading orchestras such as the New York Philharmonic, the Boston Symphony and the Cleveland Orchestra. He has also distinguished himself in calling 799-2842 between 4 and numerous performances with 9.

Soprano Lise Karlsson has sung leading roles with leading American opera companies. She has appeared as soloist with the Pittsburgh, Reading and Ithaca Symphonies and is a frequent performer at the Tanglewood, Ambler and Aspen festivals. Mezzo-soprano Betty Allen is executive director of the Harlem School of the Arts and a faculty member of the North Carolina School of the Arts and Manhattan School of Music. She has appeared as soloist with a number of leading conductors and has made numerous recital tours in the U.S. and abroad.

Alan Crabb, tenor, is a leading performer of oratorio in this country, having appeared with many major orchestras. His opera credits include performances with the Tri-Cities Opera in Binghamton, N.Y., the Opera Theatre of Syracuse and the companies of several up-state New York cities. Terry Cook will make his American debut this year in "Rinaldo" and will also appear as soloist with the Cleveland Orchestra. Highlights of his recent activities include his Paris Opera debut and appearances with the Florentine Opera of Milwaukee, Minnesota Opera, Santa Barbara Symphony and the Lyric Opera of Chicago.

The Pro Arte Choral, based in Ridgewood, has earned recognition as a foremost choral organization. It has appeared regularly in New York's major concert halls since 1967. Tickets are $16.50, $13.50, $11.50 and $9.50 with student and senior citizen rush tickets available one hour before the performance at $6.50. Tickets may be purchased at the door, or in advance from the New Jersey Symphony Box Office.

Durkee Appointed
Robert K. Durkee, Princeton University's vice president for public affairs, has been appointed to McCarter Theatre's board of trustees.

A graduate of Princeton (1969), he has taught in public schools in Trenton and at Montclair and Trenton State Colleges. In 1971, he received an M.A. from Montclair and was certified as a high school social studies teacher.

As an undergraduate, he was editor of the Daily Princetonian and campus correspondent for the Princeton Alumni Weekly. In his present position, to which he was appointed in 1978, he advises Princeton's president William Bowen on policy matters related to communications and public affairs.

Charlie, the hero of George Axelrod's comedy, is shot to death by an irate husband who catches him trying to escape from the cabin of a yacht through a porthole. He returns to life — but as a woman. Problems ensue: how, for example, can "his" best friend relate to a beautiful woman when all you know about her is the life you shared as male buddies?

Julia Poulos will play the role originated on Broadway by Lauren Bacall in 1959. Charlie's friend will be Robert J. Simmons and his former lady-friend — now his rival — will be Jan Maxwell, whom Players audiences will remember as Regina in "The Little Foxes."

Others in the cast are Churchill Clark, Lorin Zissman, Kimberly Williamson and Gene Davidson. Allan Salkin is directing, and Betsy Januszewski is producer.

Princeton University Orchestra Opens Season Performing Mozart, Schubert and Stravinsky

The Princeton University Orchestra began the 1983-84 concert season with two stunning performances presented at the University's Alexander Hall on the evenings of Friday, September 30 and Saturday, October 1. Under the baton of music director Michael Pratt, the orchestra strengthened its long-standing reputation with performances of the overture to Mozart's opera Così fan tutte, Schubert's Symphony No. 8 in B minor, and an iridescent rendition of Stravinsky's "Firebird Suite."

Mr. Pratt opened this concert with the Così fan tutte overture. The warm tone of this ensemble, particularly that of the strings, has always been one of its most admirable qualities. Though not as thickly colored as the tone of more mature ensembles, it fared very well through the translucent textures of this classical work. Despite occasional disparities in tempo between the violins and winds, the high energy and youthful enthusiasm of the performers, coupled with their conductor's indisputable musicianship, made this overture exciting to listen to, in spite of its ragged spots. It also served to whet the public's appetite for the University's full production of the opera, due to open at the end of November.

Luscious "Unfinished". Schubert's Symphony No. 8 capped off the first half of the concert. Better known as the Unfinished Symphony, this two-movement work is a prime example of the composer's penchant for writing long, luscious melodies. Pratt made good use of this crucial feature, best evidenced in the lovely phrasing and resonant tone of his cello section during the first appearance of the symphony's famous secondary theme.

research in the music of the restoration theatre and in Purcell's life and compositional styles. Their goal was to perform Purcell's works with the proper accompaniment and ornamentation and to encourage others to perform Purcell according to the style of his period.

Ms. Sanders, a soprano, and Ms. Simmons, harpsichordist, will perform, with additional accompaniment on cello and violin. Allan Seale and Katherine Olsen will assist, singing duets with Ms. Sanders. Selections from "The Fairy Queen," "Dioclesian," and "King Arthur" will be followed by a polpouri of lesser known theatre works and representative songs.

Admission is free and open to the public.

IN FULL VOICE: This is the scene at the Unitarian Church when the Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs gets together to sing through one of the great choral works. The Musical Amateurs will begin their 48th season Sunday afternoon, October 16, at 4 with the Beethoven Mass in C, Michael Pratt conducting.

Music in Princeton

Meetings are held on the first and third Thursdays of the month. Dues are collected to meet expenses, such as the purchase of music.

The first meeting is open to anyone who would like to become acquainted with the orchestra. For further information call Mr. Kovacs at 921-8732 or Peter Cook, 924-4835.

KING'S SINGERS DUE

For Concert at McCarter. The King's Singers, leading practitioners of male close-harmony singing, will open the 1983-84 Music-at-McCarter concert series on Tuesday, October 18, at 8. Although all seats have been sold out by subscription, standing room is available in advance from the box office.

The King's Singers take their name from King's College, Cambridge, England, where the group was formed 15 years ago. Since that time they have performed more than 1,500 concerts around the world and made 200 radio and television appearances. Their programs range from 14th-century church music to 20th-century popular standards, and in between are madrigals, motets and folk music of all lands and languages.

For their first Princeton appearance, the six members will perform songs ranging from the Renaissance to the contemporary and from Lithuanian to Cole Porter. Their traditional tour-de-force is a wordless capella romp through Rossini's overture to The Barber of Seville.

For information on McCarter's standing room procedure, call the box office at 452-5200, noon to six.

SHANTYMAN DUE

For Folk Music Concert. The Princeton Folk Music Society will feature Erik Iloft in concert on Friday at 8 p.m. at the home of Art and Arlene Miller, 2 University Way, Princeton Junction.

Erik sailed with the Royal and Merchant Navies, and is the official Shantyman to the "British Shipbuilders Society," formed in 1931 for men who served under sail. He sings shanties, fore-bitters, ward-room songs and many other songs associated with the sea. He accompanies himself on several diverse instruments such as the bosun's call and bones and is also a gifted storyteller.

Admission is $5 for adults, $3.50 for students, and $3 for Society members. There are no advance sales. Memberships are available at the door. For further information call 924-9143.

AMATEURS TO BEGIN

With Beethoven Mass. The Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs will open its 48th season on Sunday, October 16, at 4 with a "sing through" of the Beethoven Mass in C at the Unitarian Church.

Michael Pratt, conductor of the Princeton University Orchestra, will lead chorus, orchestra and soloists through the work. Soloists are Martha Pansey, soprano; Jill Scurato, alto; Bruce Turner, tenor, and John Woodard, bass.

The "sings" planned by the Musical Amateurs are not performances but occasions in which any musically interested person may participate. Singers and instrumentalists, mainly from the Princeton area, but some from as far as northern New Jersey and Philadelphia, gather on one Sunday afternoon a month from October to April to "perform" for their own pleasure one or more great works in the choral literature.

There are no preliminary rehearsals except for the conductor and soloists. The chorus ranges in size from 75 to 150, and the orchestra from 20 to 35 players. No auditions are required to sing in the chorus, but anyone interested in singing solo part, unless known to one of the conductors, should get in touch with Cynthia Lake at 924-6657. Orchestra players call Rogers Woolston at 921-2478 for information.

In addition to Mr. Pratt, the conductors for this season will include Kenneth B. Kelley, director of music at Nassau Presbyterian Church; J. Merrill Knapp, recently of the Princeton University Music Department; Robert W. Jones, assistant director of the Los Angeles Master Chorale; Lois Lavery, director of music at All Saints' Church; Prof. Walter Nollner, conductor of the Princeton University Glee Club and Chapel Choir; and Frances Slade, conductor of the Princeton Pro Musica.

Programs for the year include, November 13, Kodaly Missa Brevis and Randall Thompson Peaceable Kingdom; December 4, Bach Magnificat and Vivaldi Gloria; January 15, Gilbert and Sullivan Patience; February 12, Poulenc Gloria and Haydn Lord Nelson Mass; March 11, Brahms Schicksalslied and Vaughn Williams Mass in G; and April 1, Handel Israel in Egypt.

There are membership dues or a single admission charge at the door to defray the cost of the hall, the music and refreshments served at intermission. There is no admission fee for students, nor for those who come only to listen.

GREEK FOLK MUSIC

At Princeton Inn College. Music of northwestern Greece will be presented in a concert at the Princeton Inn College dining room on Saturday at 8:30.

The event is open to the public without charge, and refreshments will be served.

TRIPS TO THE MET
And classes for All. The Westminster Conservatory of Westminster Choir College offers private and group instruction to music lovers of all ages and abilities.

This year, to celebrate the centennial year of the Metropolitan Opera Company, the Conservatory is also offering "Opera Outings," Saturday afternoon bus trips to seven operas in the Met repertoire. The program begins Saturday, October 15, with a trip to Lincoln Center for lunch followed by La Bohème.

A trip to La Traviata is planned for November 5; Dialogues of the Carmelites on December 3; Fidelio on January 7; Rinaldo on February 11; Arabella on March 17; and Billy Budd on April 14.

For information call the Conservatory Office, 921-7104 or 924-6359.

This fall the Conservatory is offering a program of 10-week courses for area high school students and adults in music reading, music literature, Alexander Technique (dance movement), conducting, jazz piano and Indian music. Adults may also sign up for voice class, flute ensemble, recorder ensemble or violin class.

LET'S TALK ABOUT
 FEEDING THIS FALL TO OFFSET DROUGHT EFFECTS ON YOUR TREES
 with Sam DeTuro
Woodwinds Associates

FEEDING THIS Fall is a "MUST" if your trees are to overcome the loss of vigor due to the long summer drought.

Not in years has the urgency of feeding been so important. A tree that is fed this fall will be better able to absorb nutrients from the soil as it needs them. Next spring there will be food to nourish the unfolding buds. A healthy tree is better able to fend off diseases as well as insect pests.

The advantage of feeding now is that the tree's roots grow during the late fall until winter and then begin growing again at the first flush of warm weather, often in January and February. The roots continue to grow until just after the leaves unfold.

Seriously consider feeding your trees and shrubs soon and give WOODWINDS (924-3500) a call for your tree care needs.

IT'S NEW To Us
THE YALE COLLECTION
 At Gasior's. Within a charming converted public school house in Belle Mead, one of the finest collections of early American reproduction furniture existing today is on display and for sale. Gasior's Furniture and Accessories on Route 206 is a feast to the eyes for those seeking the best quality furnishings. The attractive setting seems more like a home than a shop.

Elegant hand-screened silver wallpaper covers the foyer, welcoming the shopper to this pleasant store which, until eight years ago, was the Harlingen public school of Belle Mead, built in 1918. Five years ago, Dick and Donna Gasior decided that it was the ideal place to house their business which they had been actively pursuing for many years in northern New Jersey.

Donna Gasior's father owned a large furniture business in that area, so she has truly grown up in the profession. Her talents lie in interior decorating, a service which the Gasiors offer free of charge because, in their opinion, their customers "are seriously committed to quality furnishings."

Because the Gasiors settled in West Windsor many years ago, they would drive past the former school daily, and were enchanted by the size and design of the old Harlingen school. The principal's office remains intact, with a huge blackboard on the wall, and now serves as a playroom to divert youngsters while their parents are wandering through the numerous rooms filled with lovely reproductions. Even the heating pipes are integrated into the shop's whole design picture, which varies according to the style of the furniture in each room. In most cases the pipes have been painted or covered to blend with the vast choice of wallcoverings and carpeting.

FINE FURNITURE AT GASIOR'S: This exquisite mahogany Newport kneehole chest of drawers, a reproduction from the Yale museum collection, is one of ten such pieces now available at Gasior's on Route 206 in Belle Mead. The store, which is housed in a charming converted public school, will feature a Columbus Day tent sale this weekend.

"We pride ourselves on a good selection of fine 18th-century reproductions, both wood and upholstered pieces. Everything here is solid wood and made by the best furniture companies," explains Dick Gasior, who takes great pleasure in showing his customers even the smallest details of a beautifully made chest.

The Gasiors feel that their shop differs from most in that every piece is special, and they stock a wide variety of accessories to offset the fine wood pieces. These pieces are made by such well known companies as Southwood, Hinkel Harris, Virginia Galleries, Stickley, Hickory, Davis Cabinet, and Kindel, to mention a few.

 his customers through the sample room full of carpets, wall coverings and fabric selections, past cozy libraries with overstuffed down sofas, to serene bedrooms, papered in the traditional mode with four-poster beds, chests, rockers, and bedside tables. The lighting at Gasior's is excellent, so that the samples' true colors are readily seen. Fabrics by Greeff, Schumacher and van Luit are among the samples seen, and the Laura Ashley upholstered pieces are on display as well.

Le Barge brass and glass lamps, and a host of accessories which make lovely gifts, can be found at Gasior's. Many bargains will be offered during their three-day Columbus Day tent sale this weekend. Hours on Saturday and Monday will be from 9 to 4, and from 12 to 4 on Sunday. Regular hours are from 10 to 5:30 Monday through Saturday and until 9 on Thursdays.

PLANT BULBS FOR SPRING
 From Ambleside. Seasoned gardeners know that fall is planting time, according to experts Townsend and Mary Scudder, owners of Ambleside on Route 206 and Oxford Place in Belle Mead. Ambleside is more than a nursery. This month it is a festival of fall foliage in brilliant colors, unique tiny "idea" gardens planned especially for homeowners who have limited space, baskets full of fresh and dried flowers and luscious green house plants, marvelous clay pots, and a truly international craft exhibition and shop. The handsome contemporary design of the shop, which features huge glass-panel windows and rustic grey-weathered wood, offsets the many trees, plants and shrubs available there.

The Scudders, whose son manages their complete landscape department including design, construction and installation, always have Scudder feels that now is a creative displays to lure the good month for planting the shopper. You might stop in for colorful sugar maples which one of their hardy mums and we are enjoying all around Poland and a set of hand-turned into lovely carved wooden animals from already turning into shades of bronze and red, Africa! Their collection of intwo upper levels of the shop. The crafts include: tiny pastoral figures, the Santon de Provence; old English musical cottages with Swiss movements; Russian wooden nesting dolls; and Swedish nativity figures and creches, to mention a few. All make excellent gifts any time of year. Youngsters and adults alike will enjoy the Folktales — puppets with a tale such as "How the Turtle Got Its Shell." The furry folk include raccoons, beavers and skunks.

Hours are from 10 to 6 Tuesday through Friday, 9 to 5 on Saturday, and 1 to 5 on Sunday.

ART In Princeton

TALKS TO RESUME
At Art Museum. Museum
Break Talks will resume at
The Art Museum of Princeton University on Friday, October 21.

On Fridays at 12:30 p.m. and Sundays at 3 p.m., these short lectures, lasting about 30 minutes, are presented by Museum docents, University faculty and graduate students, and special guests. The talks are about works of art in the Museum's permanent collection and current exhibitions. The public is invited.

The first talk will be given by Sally Hughes, Museum docent, on "John Singleton Copley's Portrait of Elkanah Watson, Chronicler of the American Revolution." The second talk by Betsy Rosasco, assistant curator at the Museum, is on the special loan exhibition of the work of Leonardo da Vinci titled "Leonardo's Return to Vinci." Museum Talks for Children between the ages of 5 and 12 will resume on Saturday, October 22, at 11 a.m. The topics for the talks, which last about a half hour, are selected to give children an enjoyable introduction to art. "Elias Boudinot of Princeton Helped to Shape Our Nation" is the subject of the first talk and will be given by Margery Considine, Museum docent. To herald Halloween, Annette Merle-Smith will discuss "Devils and Demons" on October 29. Children under seven must be accompanied by an adult.

The Art Museum is open Tuesdays through Saturdays, 10 to 4; Sundays, 1 to 5 p.m. (academic year), 2 to 4 p.m. (summers). The Museum is closed Mondays and some holidays.

TAKE AN ART TOUR
Office Opens Here. Art
Tours of Manhattan, offering specialized lecture-tours, has opened an office in Princeton at 76 Library Place, with Dr.
Eileen Guggenheim Wilkinson, Diane Unruh and Barbara Guggenheim as directors.

The organization is introducing its service with tours of the Monet exhibit at the Metropolitan Museum.
Groups who sign up with Art Tours will have, before their visit to the Metropolitan, a slide lecture in what is described as "an elegant townhouse" a block away from the museum. Breakfast, luncheon or cocktails can be arranged.

Art Tours also has tickets so that the group can visit the Monet at a specific time with no waiting, according to spokespersons. Lecturers are art historians specializing in the 19th-century sources of modern art.

Eileen Guggenheim, a former faculty member of the department of art and archeology at Princeton, is a consultant to the new IBM
Gallery of Art and Science in New York. Ms. Unruh, whose title is New Jersey Coordinator, previously coordinated programs and volunteers for the Historical Society of Princeton.
Details may be obtained by calling the Princeton office at 683-0881.

Street (formerly South Willow Street) in Trenton is currently featuring an exhibition on 18th century New Jersey antiques and decorative arts.
There is also a long-term exhibition featuring arms of the Revolutionary War,
Washingtoniana, and artifacts
from the Battle of Trenton.
The Museum also has a restored Squad Room, which shows 18th-century barracks life.

Costumed guides offer interpretive tours during museum hours, which are Monday through Saturday from 10 to 5 and 1 to 5 on Sunday.

ON EXHIBIT

A retrospective of prints by Gregorio Prestopino will be on view through October 21 at Full House Gallery, Kingston.
A reception will be held Sunday, October 16 from 3-5.
Gallery hours are Monday through Saturday, 10 to 5:30.

Images and patterns by photographer Naomi Savage are being exhibited at the Noyes Museum, Lily Lake Road, Oceanville. Gallery hours are Wednesday-
Saturday, 11 to 4; Sunday, noon to 4.

Watercolors from nature by artist-teacher Barbara Cook will be exhibited through October at The Hopewell Frame
Shop, Hopewell House Square,
Broad and Mercer. In November, Ms. Cook's work will be on display in New York at Citibank, 51st and Fifth Avenue. Hopewell Frame
gallery hours are 9:30 to 5,
Tuesday through Saturday.

Offense and Defense Continue to Improve in Brown Victory; Tigers Now Seek to Atone for Last Year's Upset by Columbia

DOUBLE COVERAGE EQUALS NO COVERAGE: (Left) Princeton receiver Derek Graham hauled in this pass from Doug Butler last Saturday against Brown while two Bruin defenders collided behind him. With the ball firmly in his grasp, and the Brown players on the ground and out of the play, (right) Graham turned toward the goal line, and ran the remaining 20 yards into the end zone. The fourth quarter touchdown turned a precarious one-point lead into an eight-point advantage.

With its 27-16 triumph over Brown last Saturday in Providence, the Princeton football team took a major step toward regaining the respectability lost by its predecessor a year ago.

In winning its second consecutive contest after the opening loss to Dartmouth, this team finds now finds itself at the same point as the 1982 squad, and has a golden opportunity to atone for one of the major blunders of last season. Last year's stirring 28-23 win over Brown, also gave Princeton a 2-1 mark, but it was 2-0 in Ivy competition.

At the post-game conference, an ebullient Vic Ruterbusch, one of the team's co-captains, proclaimed, "We're in the driver's seat now," in referring to the Ivy race. At the time, few would have disagreed with his assessment.

But, just a week later, the Tigers were rudely bounced out of the driver's seat and the car as well. Brimming with over-confidence, they became the only team to lose to Columbia, falling 35-14. They never really recovered from that shocking upset, losing all but one of their remaining games.

weeks (25 of 27 passes for 352 yards and three touchdowns), Doug Butler gave further proof of his outstanding ability as a quarterback.

However, the Tigers' aerial circus provided a second attraction, a running attack that worked, time and again, against Brown's big and strong defensive line. Tailback Ralph Ferraro carried 34 times for 117 yards.

And the defense is growing, too. While Princeton scored 17, it permitted the Bruins just six points in the second half, effectively containing Brown's Joe Potter in the decisive final period.

Are Lions Toothless? Princeton's secondary did a fine job limiting Potter to just 12 completions in 35 tries, and intercepting him four times.

Saturday, however, it will face its sternest test to date.

Every week Columbia's senior quarterback John Witkowski adds to his school and league records for passing. His two favorite receivers Don Lewis and Bill Reggio are following with many of their own. This trio picked Princeton apart at Baker Field a year ago, and have continued their success this season.

But that success does not include any victories for the Columbia team. The Lions were walloped 43-14 by Harvard in their opener, and then fell 34-29 to Lafayette. They gave cause for hope against the Leopards, fighting back from a 21-0 first-quarter deficit to take a 29-28 lead late in the game, before giving up the winning touchdown with just over a minute remaining.

That glint of promise was dashed at the Meadowlands last Friday night, where they lost to Penn. 35-10 in a game many thought the Light Blue could win. Witkowski had a sub-par performance, completing just 15 of 44 tosses for 202 yards. Reggio did not catch a single pass and Lewis hauled in just four. In three games Witkowski has completed 69 of 124 aerials for 896 yards. To add to Columbia's woes it must play every game away from home this season while Baker Field is completely remodeled.

Rule Change Helps Tigers

A new rule concerning the coin toss at the start of the game worked to the benefit of Princeton Saturday.

The rule now allows the team winning the toss to delay its choice until the start of the second half, instead of using it up at the start of the game. When the Tigers won the toss, they elected to do just that, giving Brown the option to receive the opening kickoff.

The Bruins, however, got nowhere with their first possession, and were forced to punt. At the start of the second half with the score tied 10-10, Princeton received the ball and drove 80 yards for the go-ahead touchdown, and Brown never caught up.

Sadly, the Light Blue is discovering for the umpteenth time, that a good offense can't guarantee victory. Coach Bob Naso had hoped for improvement in his defense this fall, but it just has not been enough. In their first three games a year ago, the Lions gave up 131 points; they've pared that down to 112. Good as he is Witkowski still can't make up the difference.

A contributing problem is the lack of a running attack to complement the passing, and take some of the pressure off the pass rush by opposing linemen. Junior tailback Darryl Mitchell is the leading ball carrier, but he's not who they turn to for first down yardage.

Columbia has managed but one victory per season in its last four, beating Penn twice, Lafayette once, and Princeton a year ago. Make no mistake about it, Witkowski is capable of pulling off another upset here Saturday, but the odds just do not favor his doing so. Princeton has been installed as the favorite for the first time this season, and the reasons are obvious.

Butler should be successful through the air against Columbia's pass coverage, and the Tigers' defense seems to have improved enough to meet the challenge posed by Witkowski. The ability is there, and this time around the right mental attitude should also be present.

BROWN SOUNDLY BEATEN

For 3rd Straight Time. Such is the reputation enjoyed by Yale, that a Brown victory over the Elis to open the season, tends to make the Bruins look better than they are. Brown achieved this feat for the second straight year, but for the second straight year, Yale appears to be headed for another mediocre season.

This helps explain why Brown was favored by at least a touchdown in last Saturday's contest, even though it had followed its Yale victory with a poor showing against Rhode Island. Princeton's 27-16 victory was well earned, but not that surprising.

The two teams battled on mostly even terms through the first half ending in a 10-10 deadlock, but the Princeton offense looked more capable of scoring points. Early on it was apparent Brown would have its problems stopping Derek Graham and Kevin Guthrie.

Graham's return to the line-up, after missing last season, has been a tremendous help to Guthrie. Last year Woods looked for the senior flanker so many times in key situations, that opposing defenses often were able to break up the play. Now they also have Graham to contend with.

Brown had little success handling the chore. Guthrie had a big day against Bucknell, and it was Graham's turn Saturday. He caught 10 passes for 201 yards and two touchdowns. Guthrie was not far behind with eight receptions for 112 yards, including his 11th career TD, breaking his own Princeton record.

Princeton's success through the air was helped by the running of Ralph Ferraro, who helped set up the Tigers' first three points with his steady gains through the middle and around end. The points were provided by sophomore placekicker Mike Miskovsky, who booted a 46-yarder midway through the first period.

Bruins Answer with TD. Quarterback Joe Potter got the Bruins offense rolling near the end of the first period, and his rollouts to the wide side helped put six points on the scoreboard. Fullback Steve Heffernan balled over from the two to put Brown in the lead, 7-3.

Using short drops and sprint outs to avoid the Bruins' rush, Butler got the lead right back on Princeton's next series, which included a 39-yard pass to Graham. The final eight yards came on a toss to Guthrie.

A field goal by Brown with 9:41 left in the half, tied the score at 10-10. It stayed that way until the intermission, as the Orange and Black squandered two chances to regain the lead. On one occasion, Butler underthrew Graham in the end zone, resulting in his only interception of the day.

Then with time running out in the half, the Tigers reached the Brown six-yard line with a first down. They came away empty-handed, however, as four passing attempts failed, one ball thrown away to stop the clock.

Brown also let a chance slip away, fumbling away a scoring opportunity at the Princeton 31 after making a first down on a fourth and one try. Rick Coley recovered the loose ball for the Tigers, who have already surpassed the number of takeaways, they managed to achieve all last season, (13 versus 12).

The second half was almost all Princeton. It took the Tigers nearly an hour to get a 17-10 lead. Butler and Graham combined for an 11-yard touchdown. Potter managed one more score, largely on the strength of his own running, to close the gap to 17-16, midway through the third period, but sophomore Anthony DiTommaso blocked the extra point attempt.

Later in the period, the Tigers lost a chance at another touchdown when sophomore safety Jim Anderson intercepted a Potter pass and started off toward the Brown goal line with no one in front of him. As the fastest man on the Tiger squad, 33 points seemed assured, but Potter miraculously caught him from behind at the 20, and Princeton got no further.

An incredible catch by Graham between two Brown defenders gave Princeton its third touchdown early in the fourth quarter, and Miskovsky added a second field goal from 26 yards to close out the scoring.

The Tigers' defense made some adjustments at end, after Potter's third quarter touchdown, and did not allow a serious threat by the Bruins' offense the rest of the game. Potter finished with 86 yards in 15 attempts.

FRESHMEN WIN FIRST

Dartmouth Beaten 17-0. There may be better times ahead for Princeton in its series with Dartmouth. The Tigers have lost to the Big Green three straight years on the varsity level, but last Sunday the freshman team opened its season by shutting out

Dartmouth, 17-0 on Frelinghuysen Field here. The Orange and Black had 249 yards total offense, compared to 188 for the visitors. It scored a second period touchdown on a 57-yard pass play from quarterback Sean Welsh to Mike Behrman, a 17-yard field goal in the third quarter by Mark Justh, and added a final touchdown on a 25-yard pass interception.

That was one of six interceptions on the day, and the frosh also registered nine sacks on the Dartmouth quarterback. Welsh completed eight of 15 passes for 132 yards.

This Friday evening at 7:30, the freshmen will take on Columbia on Frelinghuysen Field.

PHS Plays with More Intensity, but Still Makes Too Many Errors in Saturday's Loss to Ewing

One might think that Princeton High football coach Bill Cirullo would be unhappy with his team after it followed an opening 33-7 loss to Steiner with a 28-0 defeat Saturday by Ewing. Not so.

"I'm not disappointed in my team," insisted Cirullo. "That was a different team out there. We came to play football and I'm proud of them. And I intend to tell them that."

"I have nothing negative to say," continued Cirullo. "I'm not one to pad people's image. If they do a good job, I compliment them. They did a good job today. I'm pleased. There was some very good hitting out there. The intensity level was much higher."

While PHS did play with more intensity, they were unable to contain the army of running backs that Ewing hurled at them all afternoon, especially senior fullback Pat Davis, who scored two touchdowns and rushed for 124 yards in 13 carries, and Mr. Outside, sophomore Mark Bivens, who added 75 yards on 11 rushes and one TD. In all the 2-0 Blue Devils rushed for 308 yards and coupled its offense with a stingy defense that intercepted four PHS aerials and recovered a pair of fumbles.

"They have a very nice looking ball club, agreed Cirullo. "I thought we would contain 44 (Davis) a little better than we did, but he's a big, strong kid." Davis is listed at 6-3, 235 pounds on the Ewing chart and runs the 40-yard dash in 4.8. "He's like a train," said Ewing coach Bruce Martz.

Cirullo praised his team for refusing to give up. "We came back with a sustained drive in the fourth period and almost punched it in," he said. And the Little Tigers did appear they were going to avert a shutout when they drove 43 yards from their own 27 to the Blue Devil 30 before the drive was halted by the home team's fourth pass interception.

Hamilton Next. What must PHS do when it next meets Hamilton High Saturday at 1:30 at Hamilton? "The thing we need to do against Hamilton," said Cirullo, "is to cut down on the errors. You can't stay in a ball game when you keep dropping the ball. We can't afford to keep turning the ball over — we don't have the offensive fire power."

Then Davis went to work. He bolted 20 yards up the middle for a first down on the PHS 31 and two plays later blasted off tackle for 28 yards and Ewing's first six-pointer.

Cirullo called his two defensive linebackers Jason Petrone and Chris McCray together and complained, "They're running the ball

DID HE SCORE? A referee ruled that Ewing back James Phillips had indeed scored on this last play of the game between Ewing and Princeton High. The head linesman, closest to the play, ruled, however, that Phillips had been stopped short of the goal by Princeton's Tom Haggerty, as P.T. Navarro (43) and Frantz Massenet (51) came up to assist. The play — fortunately — was inconsequential as Ewing at the time enjoyed a 28-0 lead.

A newcomer to the Colonial Valley Conference this season, very thing we designed to stop."

PHS fought back. Its longest pass of the young season, a 35-yard strike from Martin to Tim O'Gorman carried to the first down on the Ewing 16. Three plays later, Martin's pass over the middle was intercepted on the three. "The quarterback made a mistake," commented Cirullo after the game. "I told him to take it up to the corner and if he didn't have a man open to throw to he should run with it. That's inexperience. But he's a nice athlete. He'll be okay."

From its three, Ewing drove the length of the field, a drive which featured three completed passes by quarterback John Capuano and a 39-yard bolt by Bivins down the sideline. One of Capuano's aerials was a short wobbly pass, the result of his arm being hit by a PHS tackler as he released the ball, which nevertheless was grabbed by Shelby Stokes. "That's the breaks of the game; just keep going," shouted Cirullo.

More Mistakes. PHS tried to go back in the game in the second half but was again hurt by mistakes. On the third play of the half, a handoff in the backfield was bungled and Ewing captain Zack Williams fell on the ball on the PHS 42. Six plays later, Rod Stevens circled under from 33 yards out for Ewing's third score.

Bivins, Ewing's offensive leader in the opening game, scored the home team's final TD on a two-yard run, capping a drive that began five plays earlier when Harvey returned a PHS punt to the Little Tiger 39.

After Ewing had run the score to 28-0, Martz exhorted from the sideline, "Come on men, let's keep working. You've got to enjoy it now." One Ewing follower remarked, "I don't know about the line, but we've got running backs we don't know what to do with. And I hear three or four more are coming up."

Tailback Tom Haggerty was the workhorse of the PHS ground game, lugging the ball for 48 yards in 11 carries. Albino Nini, playing hurt, added 29 yards on four carries and Petrone rushed for 16 yards in seven carries.

Martin completed three of nine passes and had three picked off; Young connected on three of seven and had one intercepted. Tim O'Gorman and Nini each caught two passes.

"Albino (Nini) showed a lot of courage in what he did

PHS GIRLS DENIED AGAIN

By West Windsor in Soccer. In five games before the start of the Colonial Valley Conference league competition, the Princeton High School girls soccer team has been denied a victory.

West Windsor handed the Little Tigers their third setback — there have been two ties — last week, edging PHS 4-3. The visiting Pirates won their fourth in six games.

"That Lombardo is just too good," said PHS coach Ed Beacham, after the Pirates' 4-3 victory. Lombardo scored three goals for the victors, including the game-winner with 11:40 left in the final period. The three scores raised Lombardo's season's output to 15. "She has a great foot and she just smells the goal every time she gets near it," observed Beacham. "We used to have a girl like her — Sue Mooney." Mooney, who played for PHS a few years back, is the all-time high scorer for the Little Tigers. Despite the loss, PHS is all even with every other school as far as the CVC league standings go. League competition began this week.

PHS will entertain Hightstown this Wednesday at 3:45 at the Valley Road School field and will be at McCristin High Friday afternoon for another league contest. Tuesday, Steinert will be here for the fourth of ten league games.

Visiting West Windsor scored in each of the first three periods, Lombardo booting two goals and Richelle Stives the other.

Hillary Jones scored Princeton's first goal in the second period and Susan Huffaker scored her first goal of the season at 12:36 in the third period. After Lombardo's third score had given WW a two-goal lead with nine minutes to play, Annie Helgason scored for Princeton with 33 seconds left in the game.

"With three goals you would win most games," commented Beacham. To get some scoring punch — PHS had scored only four goals in its first four games — Beacham reported that he had moved some of his better players up front. Now the Little Tigers are having a little trouble in the backfield, he said.

HUN ELEVEN IDLE

After blanking George School. For the third week in a row, the Hun School football team used a different running back to carry its offense and for the second time it was a winner as Hun blanked George School, 10-0.

This time it was Jose Luque, converted to halfback from tight end, who wore the hero's laurel. Luque kicked a 30-yard field goal with nine seconds to go in the first half and scored on a three-yard run in the final period to cap a 27-yard drive to account for all Hun's points.

The previous week, Rob Rosenfield had taken over for the injured halfback Todd Lipani in a 19-6 loss to Newark Academy after Lipani had rushed for 102 yards in Hun's opening win over Morrisville. "It doesn't look like Lipani is coming back as soon as we had thought," commented Hun coach Bill Quirk. "The Hun staff had only three days to teach the plays to Luque and then only the plays they planned to use against George School. "He kept us in there," said Quirk of Luque, who rushed for 86 yards in 18 carries.

Hun has an open date on its schedule this weekend before its meeting next Saturday, Oct. 15, with visiting Blair Academy.

Quirk said that he was looking forward to the two weeks to heal all the little bumps and bruises and to prepare for Blair.

He reported that he watched Blair defeat Dunellen High School 18-0 in its last start (Hun will play Dunellen the following week) and that Blair is a "good, strong, hard-hitting team. They have two good quarterbacks and they use both."

Blair has always been a tough competitor for Hun on the gridiron. Last year it handled Hun easily, 35-8, and a win this year would send the Raiders' stock soaring.

The game with George School — the first of the season for the Cougars — settled into a defensive battle in the first half and featured the fine punting of Hun's Brint Dietrich who averaged 47 yards on three punts.

Hun finally got on the board following a sack of Cougar quarterback Shawn Buki by Hun defensive end John Salasko when the home team was forced to punt from its own nine and the ensuing punt traveled only 19 yards. Taking over on the George 28, Hun moved the ball to the 15 on two carries by Luque, setting up his field goal with seconds left in the half.

In the second half, George was unable to move consistently against the big Hun forward wall which averages 208 pounds, and is anchored by Hun tackle Pat Marlett who is 6-5, 235 pounds and captain of the team.

Hun iced its victory after an interception of a halfback option pass by Salasko in the fourth period gave Hun possession on the Cougar 27. Sticking on the ground — Hun quarterback Barry Landis threw only twice — Luque and fullback Seth Wheaton alternated carrying the ball. Luque carried it over from the three behind the blocking of Hun's other standout tackle, 6-5, 220-pound Bud Stewart and guard Mark Kadi.

"We had a lot more size up front than they did. That was the difference," said Quirk. He cited Salasko for his play in containing the outside and pressuring the George School quarterback. The returning senior letterman had two quarterback sacks and an interception. He also praised the blocking of fullback Wheaton, who was also Hun's second most effective gainer on offense with 45 yards in nine carries.

PHS EDGED, 3-2 In Tennis. The Princeton High girls tennis suffered its first loss of the season last week when it was edged, 3-2, by West Windsor.

Irene Usiskin remained undefeated in first singles when she defeated Dolly Chough, 6-1, 6-2, and Princeton's first doubles of Eleanor Gorman and Debbie Rosenfeld won a three-set match from Nancy McCann and Kim Ronan, 7-6, 5-7, 6-1.

However, Princeton's other two singles players lost, Gail Ellis bowing, 6-0, 6-2, and Mia Cahill, 6-2, 7-6. The Little Tigers' second doubles of Ariela Rosenblum and Lilly Choe also lost, 6-4, 6-4.

PHS will meet Hightstown in a league match this Wednesday and then participate in the annual Mercer County tournament which will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

SECOND SEASON STARTS

For PHS Soccer Team. The so-called "second season" began this week for the Princeton High School soccer team and coach Becky Mackey is hoping it will be more successful than the start of the campaign.

In four games so far, the Little Tigers have tied two and lost four. The fact that PHS will start its Colonial Valley Conference league competition all even with every other team "still doesn't make me feel any better," said Mackey. "I want to win."

In the second of seven consecutive league games, PHS will be at Hightstown this Wednesday afternoon and on Friday at 3:45 it will entertain McCristin. Tuesday it will be at Steinert which on Saturday engineered a 2-1 upset of Kearney, the state's top-ranked team.

In games last week, the Little Tigers tied Hun, 2-2, and lost 3-1 to West Windsor.

After Hun had taken a lead on two goals by Dusty Rhodes, PHS came back to tie it on a goal by Tom Foltiny and a third-period score by Nick Gruhn on an assist by Jim Sharp. PHS goalie John Lysaker had three saves, while Hun's Terry Davidson stopped seven shots.

"The refereeing was terrible," commented Mackey. "They let the game get out of hand."

Against West Windsor, PHS fell behind early when the home-team Pirates scored all three of their goals in the second period. "They really outthrust us. West Windsor was very aggressive, especially in the first half. They were all over that ball," said Mackey.

She is, she said, looking for some more aggressiveness by the Little Tigers.

Against the Pirates, she brought up senior Bill Branson from the jayvee squad to play

BOYS, GIRLS LOSE

To Irish in Soccer. The Princeton High School boys and girls soccer teams bowed to Notre Dame in games Monday.

The once-beaten Notre Dame team defeated the PHS boys squad, 5-0. Joe Danzitta scored three minutes and 15 seconds into the game and the Irish turned it into a rout with three more second-period goals. PHS goalie John Lysaker had 12 saves.

"They are really a very skilled team. BUT, we were sort of intimidated," said PHS coach Becky Mackey. "We were in a daze; we were never in the game."

"We'll try again. I'm ever the optimist." PHS is 0-5-2, Notre Dame 7-1. It was the Little Tigers' first league game of the season.

The PHS girls team lost another one-goal decision this season — its fourth in six games. This time Notre Dame made a second-period goal stand up for a 1-0 victory.

PHS goalie Laura Nathan had a superb game in front of net for the Little Tigers with 22 saves. "I don't know what the score would have been without her," commented coach Ed Beacham.

"She keeps us in every game. She caught a shot from six feet away that doubled her over, punched out a couple of more shots and of course made all the routine saves."

The last five or six minutes of the game was all Princeton, Beacham reported. "It showed me the kids have the stamina to go the whole game."

Beacham admitted however that it is becoming a little frustrating. "We play well but we play not quite as well as the competition."

The loss was the first league setback for the Little Tigers who own a 0-4-2 record.

Field Hockey Team Wins. The Princeton field hockey team raised its record to 6-1 with a 2-1 victory over Notre Dame Monday at Community Park field.

The Little Tigers took a 2-0 first-half lead after Alison Fraker scored 1:35 into the contest on an assist from Michelle Cumberbatch and Cassie Vogt scored ten minutes later.

Terry Langan scored for the Irish 11:40 into the second half but that was the only goal ND could muster off PHS goalie Caylyn Tobin who had five saves. Lisa Morgan had six for the losers.

PHS used a good transition game from its links — Pam Jennings, Carol O'Donoghue and Sue Lofgren to register the win. Fraker's goal was her fourth of the season — high for the Little Tigers.

Earlier in the week, PHS shutout West Windsor, 1-0.

Team captain Jennings scored on a short corner off an assist from Fraker nine minutes into the first half. The loss dropped the visiting Pirates below the .500 mark.

SEASON UNDERWAY

For Princeton Soccer Association. The Fall season in the Princeton Soccer Association's Saturday morning leagues is now underway, and in games in the Cub League for second- and third-grade girls and boys, Volvo and Firestone battled to a 1-1 tie, while Princeton Hardware defeated Nassau St. Seaford 4-1. Home Decor shut out PJ's Pancakes, 7-0, and Z & W Honda blanked Greenline Diner, 1-0. Thomas Sweet scored four goals in defeating Woodwinds, and Bowers edged Peyton Real Estate, 4-3.

In Senior League play for sixth through eighth graders, Kopp's Cycle blanked Chuck's Spring Street Cafe, 5-0. Commodities Corp. defeated Jay's Cycle, 5-0, and Princeton Caterers lost 10-0 to Continuum Dynamics. Pizza Star defeated Star Fitness Center, 6-0, as Drew Warrentburg scored four goals.

PDS, MONTCLAIR TIE 0-0

Pennington Next. Thus far it's been a season of close calls for the Princeton Day football team, every one has been disappointing.

Still looking for its first win after two close defeats, especially the 8-7 loss a week ago to Friends Central, PDS had to settle for a 0-0 tie last Saturday against a very beatable Montclair team.

The Panthers controlled the game for most if not all of the four quarters played, but could not produce any points. They out gained the visitors on the ground 113 yards to 48, and intercepted three passes on defense.

David Haynes was the game's leading rusher with nine carries for 39 yards.

PDS had two chances to win the game with field goal attempts, but both failed. The first came in the second period, after the Blue and White offense had stalled on the Montclair six-yard line. A 23-yard attempt sailed wide of the uprights. In the final period, the Panthers got a second chance, this time from the 10, but a 27-yard try was blocked by the visitors.

Despite the failure to score, PDS coach Jim Walker at least could enjoy his team's performance on defense.

Field Hockey Team Wins. The Princeton field hockey team raised its record to 6-1 with a 2-1 victory over Notre Dame Monday at Community Park field.

The Little Tigers took a 2-0 first-half lead after Alison Fraker scored 1:35 into the contest on an assist from Michelle Cumberbatch and Cassie Vogt scored ten minutes later.

Terry Langan scored for the Irish 11:40 into the second half but that was the only goal ND could muster off PHS goalie Caylyn Tobin who had five saves. Lisa Morgan had six for the losers.

PHS used a good transition game from its links — Pam Montclair made it into PDS territory only once, and on that occasion via a pass in interference call. Walker cited his two linebackers, Peter Ross and Eric Bylin for exceptionally fine play. Ross was in on at least 15 tackles, and Bylin got the highest grade for his overall play on defense. Tight end Jason Quick also drew praise from Walker.

Unfortunately, the next contest pits the Blue and White against a much tougher opponent. Pennington will visit PDS this Saturday at 11 a.m., looking to get back on the winning track after a surprising tie with Wardlaw last weekend. The Red Raiders had won 18 straight prior to the Wardlaw game, and expected to make the Rams their 19th victim.

However, the contest ended in a 6-6 tie, much to Pennington's chagrin. The deadlock prevented the team from breaking the school's consecutive victory streak of 18 set nearly 50 years ago, but it still is unbeaten in 19 outings. PDS will be hard pressed to keep Pennington from starting another victory streak.

PANTHERS WIN 2 MORE

In Boys' Soccer. He has come close on several occasions, often giving up only one goal late in the game, but finally last Wednesday Princeton Day soccer goalie Mike Giulli registered his first shutout.

The Panthers blanked visiting Newark Academy, 4-0, led by Don Cogsville's three goals all in the first half. Peter Merle-Smith finished off the scoring for the Blue and White in the fourth quarter, with an assist credited to Peter Gallup.

On Saturday, PDS won its sixth straight, beating Montclair-Kimberly, 2-1. Playing in a light rain, PDS got goals from Frank Little and Andy Bing in the first and third periods, and Giulli lost his chance for another shutout in the fourth.

PANTHERS WIN NO. 7 With Six Goals. Seven proved to be a lucky number for the Princeton Day soccer team Monday. The Panthers won their seventh consecutive game, 6-0.

Don Cogsville and Sal Fier led PDS's attack with a pair of goals apiece, Cogsville netting his 13th and 14th goals of the season. Andy Bing and Peter Gallup added single tallies.

PDS goalie Mike Giulli made five saves in recording his second shutout of the season. This Wednesday the Panthers will face Hun away, and then return home Friday for a 3:45 contest against Montgomery. Another home game is set for next Tuesday with Pingry.

Wheatstreak! (near Harry's Brook). We need to find where the overflow comes from, and stop hook-ups causing that overflow. If it's adequate elsewhere, it shouldn't be necessary to stop hook-ups there."

"I am very much opposed to a sewer ban," emphasizes Dr. Cherry. "I was alone in saying we shouldn't join the Stony Brook regional sewer, because Princeton didn't need a new treatment plant. But they told me we were assured Federal money would be available to fix local collectors — but the money didn't come."

No Blame Assigned. The candidates do not level blame for the sewer condition on their opponents' party: both Democrats and Republicans have been in power in the last decade. "The Feds and the state kept holding out the carrot of money, then snatching it away," Mr. Pike recalls.

Princeton's growth — how much, where and how fast? Ms. Lewis: "I don't advocate 'no-growth.' But people in the residential area around Terhune look at development of Thane Drive, and ask '500 cars! Can Terhune take it? We're not making roads any bigger, but we're building more buildings.'"

Mr. Pike: "I want controlled growth of rateables that won't eat up open space, and add to the sewer capacity faster than we can fix the sewers. Developers are crowding at the door to get in; control must be the responsibility of the Planning Board and Zoning Board, through the Master Plan."

Mr. Miller: "Growth is necessary. The crucial thing is to understand, plan, anticipate and make it work for you. We're hurt by lack of a professional planner and we need to hire one. We must look ahead — for example, where are the S-92 interchanges, and what will their effect be on Princeton?"

Dr. Cherry: "Somewhat — and the court is unclear — we must provide our fair share of low and moderate income housing under Mt. Laurel II. The Borough and Township already come as close as anyone to meeting it."

Township Committee introduced last month a zoning amendment creating new R-A and R-B zones up on "The Ridge." It was introduced, 4-0, Mrs. Cantrell absent. Public hearing will be November 7.

"That mix of R-A and R-B is so complex," Dr. Cherry ponders. "I wonder if it's practical, but our expert said it was the most defensible, in court."

Mr. Miller opposes the amendment, regarding it as a "piecemeal" approach. He suggests keeping zoning in that area as it is, until "we have greater understanding of the whole problem." Ms. Lewis believes zoning should be "fine-tuned to the environment."

Mr. Pike, supporting the amendment, says Township counsel advised refining the zoning, and planning consultants suggested a refinement would be easier to defend in court.

Litigation Fees Defended. Regarding $300,000-plus assigned to current litigation from property owners on "the ridge," Mr. Pike says "I will defend to the death the expense so far. Look at the way voters feel about preserving open space!"

Eleanor Lewis, Democrat
"I don't advocate 'no-growth'."

William Cherry, Republican

"A sense of balance is the most important thing," Mr. Pike believes. "There are so many conflicting demands by special-interest groups: recreation, the library, sewers — and we just can't give in to all of them."

—Katharine H. Bretnall

New York Developer Plans 56 Single-Family Homes For 84-Acre Russell Estate

Fifty-six single family homes priced in the $300,000 to $400,000 range are planned by the New York developer that has purchased the 84-acre Russell Estate.

James B. Baker, chief executive officer of Springland Associates Inc., unveiled the plans before a gathering of neighbors from the Edgerstone, Constitution Hill and Independence Drive area last Friday at the Hun School. Springland Associates is owned by Mr. Baker, an architect who has been directing development projects in the United States and abroad for the past 15 years, and by J. Rich Steers, a civil engineer and chief executive officer of Steers Enterprises, a construction and engineering company which is also listed as part owner.

According to the preliminary plans, each of the 56 homes would be on its own individual site, and lots would be grouped around looping roadways that resemble cul-de-sacs. Woodland areas would be preserved, particularly a 75-foot wide stand of tall

Can A "Dashing Young Bachelor" Find Happiness in Singles' Groups? Read On

Up until a few weeks ago, you never would have caught this dashing young bachelor at a meeting of a singles organization.

Young (36, if the truth be known), bright (an A.B. degree in English, for whatever that is worth), and accomplished (a survivor, actually, of 11 years of self employment with property in Princeton Borough to show for it), our hero knew all he needed to know about singles organizations and he knew they were not for him.

Singles organizations were for—well, he still remembered the advertisement for one Princeton group, the headline of which read SINGLE? DIVORCED? WIDOWED? ALONE? The text beckoned such lonelyhearts to some dreary bowling alley on Route 1. For our hero, being single was no problem; it was an opportunity.

For a while, anyhow. But then what had been opportunity became predictable. The twists and turns that had made single life in Princeton so intriguing all seemed to lead into the same dead end. And our hero began to think again about those lonelyhearts and their covered dish dinners and high school style field trips.

Finally, he decided he would sample the singles groups, but on the condition that he not go more than once to any particular group. We heard of his plans and asked him to report his impressions for this Baedeker on the Princeton singles scene. "Why not," our hero responded. "What do I have to lose?" Absolutely nothing, of course, which is why he was on this mission in the first place.

The Forum. In his first plunge into the world of singles organizations, our hero plunks down $4 at the door of the Unitarian Church on Cherry Hill Road and is admitted to the Friday night meeting of the Forum. He joins a flock of 150 or more singles gulping coffee and devouring low budget hors d'oeuvre.

Montgomery Citizens Group Hoping State Will Like Its Ideas for Alignment of New Expressway

For thirty years or more Princeton has longed for — dreamed about, anticipated, planned for — a bypass route that would take the trucks off its main street. Known at various times as the Princeton Bypass, the I-92 Freeway and S-92, a route was sought that would link Route 206 with U.S. Route One, making it possible for north and southbound traffic to get from one to the other without having to use Nassau Street.

When Interstate Route 95 from the Scudders Falls Bridge to Route 287 was re-routed onto the New Jersey Turnpike by an Act of Congress in December, 1983, and some $246 million in federal funds released for local road improvements, the Princeton bypass route was one of the projects promised.

On September 29, the Federal Highway Authority (FHWA) approved a "Mainline Concept Plan," prepared by the New Jersey Department of Transportation (NJDOT) which is a list of projects eligible to be financed with the so-called dedesignated I-95/695 funds.

Included on the list is the Route 92 Freeway, from Route 206 to Route 33 beyond Hightstown, at a total projected cost of $103 million. (Under the Federal Highway Act, Route 95 was eligible for 90 percent federal, 10 percent state, funding. When I-95 was "dedesignated," the ratio for substitute projects changed to 85-15, so $87.6 million of this amount would be from the I-95 federal pot, the rest would come from the state.)

Heading the list of projects on this Concept Plan is the dualization and widening of Route 206 from County Route 518 to the Somerville Circle, for $42 million. Next comes the Route 206 Alternate, also known as the Somerset Expressway, from Route 206 to I-287, along the original northernmost part of the old I-95 alignment, at a total projected cost of $77 million. Next in order is the Route 92 Freeway.

Route One improvements to increase capacity in Mercer and Middlesex counties are listed at $75 million, and other smaller road improvements in Trenton, Franklin Township and Middlesex County bring the total to $362.4 million. This is about $72.5 million that is "over-

Results of State's Tests Seem to Confirm Worst Fears about Harry's Brook Pollution

Geese, deer, cats and dogs have been absolved by the state — to no one's surprise — of responsibility for high coliform bacteria counts in Harry's Brook.

Results of state tests were presented late last week to Arnold Schiffman, head of the bureau of water quality management of the state Department of Environmental Protection Division of Water Resources. Mr. Schiffman had speculated earlier that animal feces might bear some responsibility for Harry's pollution.

"Results were not unexpected," Mr. Schiffman said, "but we wanted to rule out animals, and we did. We think the weight is on the human side. We haven't yet analyzed all the results."

Princeton's health officer, Patrick Hanson, who never did believe much in the animal theory, said this week that the state sampled 11 locations along Harry's Brook on September 16, taking fecal strep, fecal coliform and total coliform counts.

Mr. Hanson says the fecal coliform count is the significant one, explaining that a count of 200 per 100 milliliters of water brings a recommendation to close any natural bathing area — which Harry's Brook is not, of course.

Locations of the samples and their fecal coliform results are:

- Harrison Street: 24,000.
- Gordon Way: 24,000.
- Harriet Drive: 1,700.
- Snowden Lane: 3,500.
- 200 feet downstream from Snowden: 790.
- Locust Lane: 2,400.
- Roper Road: 790.
- Random Road: 490.
- Random Road (second location): 490.
- "Unnamed tributary of Harry's Brook on Littlebrook Road": 790.
- Poe Road: 330.

Asked why the Random Road samples were relatively low, when that area has reportedly had very high pollution, Mr. Hanson said it was not possible to consider only one sampling, and

200th Birthday Party For Treaty of Paris

"... and dittinguifhed" guefts."

Your invitation may be photo offset, without the charming 18th-century "s" that always looks like an "f", but the day is 200 years later and, having withstood much, besides changes in type style, the Treaty of Paris that ended the Revolutionary War, is celebrating its 200th birthday.

Or rather, the nation is celebrating. Or rather, the eastern seaboard is celebrating. And especially, it seems, Princeton.

Guided by the Chamber of Commerce, Princeton will mark, this weekend, the signing of the Treaty. Some of the events are free, some require a ticket, one even requires purchase of a black tie.

It will begin this Friday at
